Nixon Briefs Congressional Leaders

New Asian Policy Reasserted

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon called in congressional leaders of both parties today to reassert his newly expressed doctrine that the defense of Asia must be handled by Asian nations themselves.

Nixon conferred with Republican and Democratic leaders of the House and Senate during a two-hour breakfast session, starting less than nine hours after he returned to the White House from a 12-day, round-the-world trip.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said the President stressed that his "declaration of Guam, the statement he made unofficially...was the basis of his trip."

During an informal meeting with reporters on Guam in which the President forbade direct quotation of his remarks, Nixon spoke of the U.S. attitude toward problems of Asian nations. He said the time had come when the United States should be emphatic in telling Asian allies that, except for threat from a major power involving nuclear weapons, the United States had the right to expect that the problem of defense would be increasingly handled by the Asian nations themselves.

Mansfield was asked today if he saw any inconsistency in that pronouncement and a later pledge by Nixon for support of Thailand against internal and external aggression. "You have to allow a President a little degree of flexibility and leeway," Mansfield replied.

Twenty-three senators and House members attended the breakfast meeting. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew also was on hand, as he was late Sunday night at Andrews AFB, Md., when the President arrived home in a driving rainstorm from his eight-nation trip.

Despite the rigors of the trip, which saw the President fly more than 5,000 miles Sunday, Nixon was described as rested and enthusiastic over results of the journey starting with the Apollo 11 splashdown in the Pacific.

President Nixon's top foreign policy adviser was to brief French President Georges Pompidou and American delegates to the Vietnam talks on Nixon's 12-day world tour. Story on Page 28.

There was little doubt, from the morning he left the deck of the USS Hornet and the three intrepid Apollo 11 astronauts, until the moment he arrived back home Sunday night, that the drama of man's first visit to the moon would pave the way for a successful 26,655-mile trip.

... The spirit of Apollo transcends geographical barriers and political differences," Nixon told a rain-drenched crowd at Andrews Air Force Base at the close of his trip which took him to eight nations. "It can help bring the people of the world together in peace."

The President was sure to concentrate for the next few days on domestic affairs until that his trip is over. Congress was scheduled to vote later today on a compromise measure extending the 10 per cent income tax surcharge until Dec. 31 and the Senate planned to vote Wednesday after a month of floor debate on Nixon's Safeguard antiballistic missile proposal. The Chief Executive was also certain to work on an address he is scheduled to make Friday to outline new welfare legislation.

Nixon described his journey as a "trip in quest of peace." And during the course of his visits to eight nations, he found a great prospect for accommodation with the Soviet bloc and gained a new appreciation how deeply Asian countries fear Communist China.

Whatever the solid accomplishments of the journey may turn out to be, there was little doubt Nixon's visit behind the Iron Curtain, to Romania, was a personal triumph. Sunday an estimated one million persons poured onto the sidewalks and streets in Bucharest to glimpse the President whose nation had sent a man to the moon.

Nixon responded with an almost euphoric warmth, wading into the crowd three times. The Romanians wore little "A-11" pins commemorating the moon feat and children held up pictures of the moon astronauts.

The Bucharest reception was the first real warmth Nixon received from crowds in the street. Spirits in some of the Asian nations he visited previously may have been dampened somewhat by the monsoon season which prevailed over much of his route.

The Romanian visit was the first by an American president to a Communist bloc nation since Franklin D. Roosevelt went to Yalta; but the outpouring of friendship, so great it may even have surprised the Romanian leaders, apparently prompted Nixon to believe accommodation is possible with East Europe.

"I can assure all who are listening to me that while the path to peace may seem very difficult, and preserving the peace is of course a task we have found tremendously arduous... the people of the world, deep in their hearts, want peace—are on the side of peace," Nixon told P. M. Minister Harold Wilson during a brief stopover in England while en route back to Washington.

"Deep differences in political philosophy cannot permanently divide the peoples of the world. This was great meaning for the future," he added when he reached Washington. "We can live in peace in the world with nations who have differences of philosophy."

Most of the presidential trip concentrated on Asia, where Nixon looked first hand at some of the nations which live in the shadow of Communist Chinese influence.

During that portion of his trip Nixon:

—Enunciated in the Philippines and Thailand a new policy that Asians must themselves take on a greater share of their defense since the United States does not want another Vietnam. He also told Thailand the United States would defend it from aggression from without and within.

—Slipped into Saigon for a brief visit to the war zone during which he told the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong there would be no more concessions in the Paris talks until the Communists came up with some of their own.

—Visited New Delhi and Lahore, Pakistan, where he reaffirmed his earlier statements about Asian defense and expressed hope the United States would be able to withdraw from Vietnam.

South Ulster — Flood Warnings

By JEAN F. DOLAN

Flood warnings went up in Southern Ulster County early this morning after an overnight rain of more than one inch.

Just seven hours after the organizational meeting of the Walkkill Valley Flood Forecasting Committee Sunday at the Highland Firehouse, the nucleus group was called into action inspecting streams in the lower part of the county.

Flash Flooding Possibility It is expected that general flooding will occur in lowlands along the Walkkill and Shawangunkkill with possibility of flash flooding in certain areas as the rains continue through the day. Streams are expected to crest at 10 p.m.

LeRoy Fein, chairman of the Dutchess County Flood Forecasting Survey who is acting as organizer of the Ulster County forecasters said today that State Police had been alerted. He noted that in general streams ravaged by last week's high water would be likely to overflow with additional rain. Most of the damage occurred in areas where fast-flowing streams were fed by waters from Sullivan County which was declared a disaster area last Monday.

6 in Kingston Closer to home the flooding possibilities were more remote. Overnight rains totaled .6 in Kingston and although gray skies continued the damp dumping through the day no flood danger is anticipated.

A spot check of flowing waters in the Kingston area revealed that streams were at near normal and well contained within their banks.

Flash flooding of the Esopus Creek occurred last Monday as a dam gate gave way at Friendship Manor in Pine Hill, sending a three and a half foot wall of water cascading down the mountain.

Washouts were reported in several sections of Ulster County. At Tuthilltown, the municipal beach was washed away with an estimated $3,000 worth of damage. A section of county highway under construction at Claryville was eroded by the heavy rains and part of the West Branch of the Neversink changed course in last week's downpour.

Sullivan Checks Damage Meanwhile, Sullivan County officials are surveying flood damaged areas to assess the extensive damage there. Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller last week pledged assistance to the resort county and efforts are being made to get federal aid for flood victims.

Although a rare sunny weekend broke the rain chain temporarily, the extended forecast through Saturday has southeastern New York State down for daily showers throughout the period. So what else is new in "tropical" Ulster County?

'A' Report Card for Pat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon came home from her round-the-world trip saying that the "happy, smiling faces of the people that welcomed us everywhere" are evidence of a "lessening of tensions."

"I didn't see an ugly face on the whole trip," Mrs. Nixon said in an interview while flying home Sunday night.

And because she didn't see any demonstrations or signs of criticism, Mrs. Nixon said she feels: "America's prestige is at an all-time high."

In winding up her first foreign trip with her husband since he became President, Mrs. Nixon said the reception in Romania was one of the big moments they have experienced during eight years of traveling around the globe.

For two days "they came out time after time," she said of the enthusiastic crowds in Bucharest.

"I wouldn't stand for two days for anything," she said laughingly.

Mrs. Nixon said she felt the Romanians have always had an affection for the United States.

"They want to be proud and had a chance to be proud because an American president was in their country," she said, adding that the U.S. moon landing "played a part in it."

The First Lady also was impressed by the soldiers and security men which lined the routes in Bucharest.

"Once they get you in, they take care of you," Mrs. Nixon said of the Communist government.

Time and again on her travels, Mrs. Nixon was caught in a crush of eager welcomers, pushed and jostled.

"I never mind that," she said. Mrs. Nixon recalled that the wife of India's acting President Mohammed Hidayatullah had told her in New Delhi: "You can't buy a crowd to come out. If you ask them to come out, they wouldn't do it."

Indians turned out, her hostess told Mrs. Nixon, because of interest created by the moon landing and because "they want to see that car"—the Presidential limousine which was flown in for Nixon's use at each stop.

While the President was conferring with heads of governments, Mrs. Nixon made visits to hospitals and social welfare institutions and addressed women volunteers.

Nixon said his wife "got an A report card all the way" on their trip through seven nations.

Returning home tired after more than 12 days of traveling, Mrs. Nixon's "do-it-myself" hairdo was still holding up well.

The First Lady said she had a hairdresser only once on the trip—in Thailand after the Nixon's were drenched in a downpour at the airport.

GAPING HOLE—A large hole was made in the ground after an explosion apparently touched off by a fire on a freight train in Noel, Mo. early Sunday. An exploded propane tank similar to the ones in the background was thought to have caused the explosion which killed one person and injured about 40 others. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Vicious Explosions— And a Ghost Town Results

NOEL, Mo. (UPI) — It was a resort town nestled beside a small lake in the shadow of the Ozark Mountains. Today the only visitors were National Guardsmen.

Besides the unusual quiet brought by the evacuation of nearly all the 1,000 residents, there were 200 damaged buildings, a 20-foot deep gorge and the guardsmen patrolling to prevent looting as mute evidence of two vicious, unexplained explosions Sunday.

Not only was the cause of the blasts unknown, even the exact circumstances surrounding them were the subject of controversy among investigators.

One thing was certain. The explosions left one person dead, 40 injured and Noel practically a ghost town.

A crater 20 feet deep and some 50 feet long marked the spot of the explosions.

Initial reports were that the larger blast was a huge propane tank at a storage depot of the Tri-State Gas Co., near the railroad tracks.

However, a spokesman for the Empire Gas Co., at Lebanon, parent firm of Tri-State, said "It was not our equipment which blew."

The highway and all other roads leading into Noel were sealed off by troopers who turned back thousands of cars of Sunday night sightseers.

Some state troopers at the scene said one or more small propane tanks aboard a truck exploded but that the main blast was on a railroad car, carrying ammonium perchlorate, a chemical used in the manufacture of munitions. The cargo was owned by the Defense Department and bound for a plant at either Marshall or Karnak, Tex.

Asst. Fire Chief Dick Easter said no propane "blew" although gas around valves or "blow holes" on the tanks caught fire.

He said a small explosion preceded the main blast, which occurred at 4:05 a.m. (CDT) just as the fire department arrived. He said firemen were so busy at the time, warning residents to flee to safety, that "no one really saw what happened."

William N. Deramus III, president of the Kansas City Southern Railway, said ammonium perchlorate is not explosive.

But chemists said it would explode if heated to temperatures around 200 degrees.

Crew Spots Glow

While the train was stopped at Noel to pick up a brakeman, crew members spotted a glow apparently from a fire. Deramus theorized it spread to several cars of dehydrated alfalfa behind it. He said he believed a trackside warehouse containing ammonium nitrate, an explosive fertilizer, contributed to the blast, possibly touching off the main explosion.

However, state troopers said the warehouse appeared to have been damaged by the explosion without contributing to the blast.

Crumpled walls of the warehouse lay on the ground and bags of fertilizer hung from the limbs of nearby trees, but sacks of the explosive material also remained inside the Noel structure, apparently untouched.

A state trooper said five demolished boxcars in the 126 car train included one which "vanished" except for a few pieces of debris buried in the earth. An axle, apparently from this car, was found a quarter of a mile away. The wheel from a car ripped through the roof of a house several blocks from the track.

Mrs. Roxie Miller, 48, the only fatality, was struck in the chest by a metal shard which had been part of a window casing ripped out by the blast. The Highway Patrol said 31 homes were destroyed, 58 others were heavily damaged, and 55 less badly damaged.

Eighty-eight businesses were damaged. One church was demolished and another heavily damaged. Only one business in the town, the State Bank of Noel, showed no exterior damage.

A DOWNTOWN BREAK—Edmund T. Cloonan (R), superintendent of the Kingston Water Department, supervises repair work on a water main at the junction of Delaware and Hasbrouck Avenues. A car reportedly hit a fire hydrant Sunday afternoon causing the break. Service, which was out for about 45 minutes, has been restored and repairs are underway. (Freeman photo by Powell).

STONE HOUSE DAY — Huguenot Street in New Paltz was a buzz with visitors to the 19th annual Stone House Day Saturday. The "oldest street in America with its original houses" was open to the public from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. with the descendants of the original settlers acting as greeters and guides. Approximately 1,000 attended this year's event which marked the start of Red Carpet Week in New Paltz. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Hodge Seeks Investigation Of State Penal System Hiring

The local president of the NAACP has called for a complete investigation of the state penal system.

Everette Hodge, of 21 Franklin Street, local NAACP leader, has written Gov.

Rockefeller asking for the investigation.

Hodge's request stems from an inspection tour he and the Rev. Paul J. McGuire of the Franklin Street AME Zion Church, took of the Catskill Reformatory in Napanoch.

Speaking of the inspection of the prison, conducted on June 20, Hodge says, "It was appalling to me to see that approximately 90 per cent of the inmates are non-white and that there were no non-white employees."

"There is a flagrant lack of Negroes and Puerto Ricans in administrative and supervisory positions in the New York State Department of Correction, as well as in all areas of employment in the prison structure," Hodge said.

Hodge said that there are approximately 700 inmates at the Catskill Reformatory and that two-thirds of them are non-white. He said there are 221 persons on the staff and that only three employees are non-white, two Negro teachers and a guard.

Hodge also asserts that whites are given unfair advantage over non-whites in the area of job promotion. In conclusion, Hodge and the Rev. Mr. McGuire "strongly urge" the governor to "launch an investigation into the entire correctional system of the state of New York... and that the governor freeze all appointments in the correctional system until more non-whites can be recruited and employed."

California Area Now the Scene Of Coed Murder Investigation

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UPI)—Michigan authorities investigating a series of brutal slayings of coeds in this university area have flown to California to check the possibility "someone in Michigan may have been involved" in a similar series of deaths there.

Other detectives from the crime center coordinating the Michigan killings were seeking possible links between John Norman Collins, charged with the latest of the deaths, and the murder of Joan Schell near Ann Arbor, Mich., last year.

Police in Salinas, Calif., had contacted the center, saying they were "suspicious that someone in Michigan may have been involved" in the deaths of three young women on the West Coast, said Kurtis Stadfeld, director of public relations at Eastern Michigan University and a police spokesman.

Collins, a senior at EMU, was charged Friday with first-degree murder in the strangling death of Karen Sue Beineman, 18, a 96-pound freshman who had been at EMU only one month when she vanished.

Her nude body, beaten so badly on the face and head she was unrecognizable, was found July 26 in a wooded gully outside nearby Ann Arbor, the home of the University of Michigan and a twin campus town to Ypsilanti.

Collins was arrested after his uncle by marriage, State Police Cpl. David Leik, returned with his family from a vacation and found bloodstains covered by freshly sprayed black paint in his basement. Crime laboratory experts matched the flecks to Miss Beineman's blood type.

The Grand Rapids, Mich., girl allegedly was slain in Leik's basement after she had accepted a motorcycle ride from Collins. She was last seen July 23 leaving a wig shop in Ypsilanti where witnesses reported she climbed onto the back seat of a motorcycle. Collins had access to several motorcycles, police said.

The body of Miss Schell, 20, Plymouth, Mich., was found stripped, stabbed five times and slashed in the throat July 7, 1968, outside Ann Arbor. Police reportedly were working on the theory male friends of Collins may have information that could link him to her slaying.

The California victims were murdered in the Salinas area in late June and early July. Two of them were strangled and one was shot.

"Police here have reason to believe Collins might have been in California at the time those killings were committed," Stadfeld said. "Two officers from the crime center in Washtenaw County have gone by plane to Salinas and they will investigate what, if any, connection there is between the killings there and here."

A high-ranking Ann Arbor police official said late Sunday Collins and possibly two other men had traveled to California in a stolen house trailer.

A fourth killing also may have brought Michigan police to California. On June 23, the body of 13-year-old Virginia Lynn Smith, Claremont, Calif., who had been strangled, beaten and raped, was found by two hikers in a creek bed in a deserted canyon two miles from her home.

The first Salinas killing was June 17. The body of Susan Mary Hennessy, 17, was found on the campus of Seaside High School. She had been strangled by her own belt.

On July 7, the body of an unidentified female in her early 20s was found in heavy growth alongside a roadway about 10 miles south of Salinas. Clad in a sweatshirt and walking shorts, she had been killed by a single shot in the head.

The latest victim was Roxie Ann Phillips, 17, from Milwaukee, Wis., found July 15 in a Carmel, Ind., woods trash pile near a lovers' lane. Police said she had been necked.

Moderation Listed as Key To Easing Paltz Friction

By BRUCE KAUFMAN

NEW PALTZ — An attorney affiliated with the State University College at New Paltz says that the problems derived from the friction between the students and police here will only be resolved through moderate efforts on both sides.

In a statement released recently, Neil Fabricant, suggests that the atmosphere in which these problems are resolved is far more important than the problems themselves.

Indicating that he was acting as a spokesman for neither the young people of the community or the college, Fabricant said that he became involved in the controversy "to help bring about an atmosphere of mutual understanding and trust when called upon to do so."

According to Fabricant, the issue itself is relatively simple.

He notes that the students explained to village officials that "like anyone else, they enjoy meeting with their friends and that, for the most part, they cannot afford apartments which are air-conditioned, and therefore tend to congregate on the sidewalks."

On the other, Fabricant notes that the students recognize that "the residents have equal rights to use the sidewalks" and that "no one had a right to interfere with pedestrian traffic."

He explains that the initial confrontation between the students and the New Paltz Village Board was a peaceful one and that following this encounter both sides came away "with a feeling that progress had been made in alleviating tensions."

Fabricant notes that by petitioning the board in this manner, the students were employing a moderate approach.

Fabricant says that "undoubtedly there are some—on both sides—who would prefer violence."

There are some students who believe that they cannot change an arbitrary law through peaceful means and that therefore violence is the only solution," he says.

"However," he continues, "there are some adults who argue that repression is the answer to all our problems; that police should be permitted to make illegal arrests; the courts should wink at illegal police conduct; and that we should suppress the illegal imprisonment of young people so that the sidewalks will not be obstructed."

Dapping Dies, Noted Journalist And U. S. Elector

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP)—Funeral services for noted journalist and presidential elector William Osborne Dapping were scheduled for 10 a.m. today.

Following the services, at a local funeral home, Dapping, who died Friday night, was to be buried in historic Fort Hill Cemetery.

Dapping won a special Pulitzer Prize in 1930 for his coverage of the Auburn State Prison riots the previous year.

He was an avid crusader for civic improvements and conservation, and between 1932 and 1964 served as a presidential elector an unprecedented seven times. Illness prevented him from casting his ballot in 1968 for Hubert H. Humphrey, who carried New York State.

Dapping was 89.

The special Pulitzer awarded to Dapping honored his writing and protection of The Associated Press during the riots at Auburn Prison in December of 1929. He was managing editor of The Auburn Citizen-Advertiser at the time, and directed that paper's coverage.

Dapping also figured in the murder case which eventually became the subject of Theodore Dreiser's novel "The American Tragedy."

Sullivan County Tragedies: Brothers Drown, Girl Shot

MONTICELLO shooting of a 12-year-old Sullivan County girl at an area investigated a double tragedy vacation resort. That claimed the lives of two young brothers in a weekend issued a verdict of accidental drowning accident, and the fatal death by drowning in the case of James Gandy, 14, and his 12-year-old brother, Jim Gandy, Jr., sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gandy of Fairgrounds Road.

In the other fatality, Liberty Coroner Sydney P. Schiff ruled the death of Gale Weinstock, victim of the shooting was accidental.

At Religious Seminar

Authorities said the parents of the two boys were on vacation attending a religious seminar at Detroit, Mich., and the boys were staying with an older brother, Samuel, 17. Police said they believed the boys went swimming in a gravel pit near the old airport and did not realize the depth of the water.

When the younger boys didn't return to their brother's home, they were reported missing. Using grappling hooks and rowboats in a search of the gravel pit, police found the bodies in about 29 feet of water in the man-made pond.

The victims were students at Monticello Central School. State Police at Ferndale reported the Brooklyn girl was playing with other children in a cabin at the Sunshine House Bungalow Colony, Thompsonville, Saturday evening. Authorities said the children were playing with a .22 caliber magnum Marlin rifle.

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — The body of a man missing since he attended an outing Thursday night was pulled from Lake Erie Sunday.

A coroner said Adrian Kittleberger, 62, of Dunkirk, had drowned accidentally. The body was found floating east of Point Gratiot Park, where the outing had taken place.

Belfast Church Violence--More Than 90 Hurt

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—More than 90 persons were injured as Northern Ireland's religious warfare spread to Belfast over the weekend. It was the worst violence in the capital since before World War II.

Two members of the British Parliament called on Home Secretary James Callaghan to intervene, but the British government is traditionally reluctant to take a direct hand in local affairs in Northern Ireland. The territory has domestic self government but remained in the United Kingdom when Ireland was partitioned 50 years ago.

The provincial Cabinet held an emergency meeting Sunday and said the government would take "any measures, however firm or exceptional," to bring the violence to an end. The statement implied that the government was prepared to call in the British Army, but despite the warning there was more rioting Sunday night.

Prime Minister James Callaghan flew back from Switzerland where he had been vacationing. The British government sent several thousand troops into Northern Ireland earlier this year, but they have been used only to guard power plants, pipelines and other such facilities. Riot control has been

Protestants and Catholics have been feuding and fighting in Northern Ireland for more than 200 years. Unlike the Catholic-dominated Irish Republic, the six northern counties of Ulster have a Protestant majority.

The Catholics charge that they are discriminated against by the voting laws and in the allocation of housing and jobs. A civil rights campaign on their behalf began 10 months ago, and the demonstrations brought opposing Protestant groups into the streets. There have been frequent violent clashes, but until this weekend most of them occurred in Londonderry, a Catholic center 7½ miles northwest of the capital.

Violence erupted in Belfast Saturday night when milk bottles were thrown from an apartment building at crowds waiting to see a Protestant procession. About 3,000 Protestants tried to storm the building, which is largely inhabited by Catholics.

Some of the Protestants broke through police lines and battled with Catholic residents. Gangs of youths roamed the streets throwing rocks and a bar was set on fire. Several times the mobs threw gasoline bombs, street gratings and stones at police. About 160 stores were looted.

The violence subsided by dawn but resumed Sunday night. More than 2,000 persons built street barricades with old cars and set them on fire in mainly Protestant Shankill Road area. They set seven bars on fire, looted dozens of shops and broke hundreds of windows.

They threw stones and tin cans of blazing paint at police and firemen.

Two armed vehicles charged the blazing wreckage and cleared the road for police to attack the mob with batons and water cannon.

Among the 90 injured were 27 police. A total of 55 persons were arrested.

Pontiff On Tour: A Skip

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI is known as a taciturn diplomat who shows little inclination for banter or animation in public. That image slipped a bit Sunday.

The 71-year-old, white-robed pontiff flapped his arms, waved his hands over his head, smiled broadly and did a little skip while telling thousands of persons about his trip to Africa. Italians said it was reminiscent of the days when Paul's late predecessor, Pope John XXIII, spun gesture-punctuated homilies.

The Pope obviously was delighted in recalling his three-day trip to Uganda, the first trip to Africa by a reigning pontiff.

"I tell you, among the many experiences providence has reserved for our ministry . . . this truly was one of the most cheering," the Pope said.

Nuns Dance Welcome

Then he recalled how African nuns had danced up and down, waving their arms in welcome as he arrived Thursday in Entebbe to begin his visit.

"Did you ever see sisters dancing?" he asked with a wide smile.

He bent his arms and flapped them and did a little skip.

Then the Pope stretched his arms high above his head to describe a tall African with a feathered headdress, one of 22 Roman Catholic converts he christened.

The Ugandans were "humble, good and brave" people whose welcome moved and cheered him, he said.

One Disappointment

The Pope did not refer to the one disappointment of his trip—his failure to mediate an end to the civil war in Nigeria.

Paul's trip to Uganda was intended to pay homage to 229 of Africa's first Christians murdered at the order of a demented African king who wanted to stamp out Christianity.

The trip also symbolized his—and the Vatican's—concern for the problems of war and racial discrimination besetting Africa.

The Pope returned just after midnight Saturday following a cheering sendoff by thousands, including Ugandan President A. Milton Obote and five visiting African heads of state. Hundreds welcomed him at Rome's International Airport.

He called the trip abroad, his eighth since his election in 1963, another manifestation of "a new style in the universal ministry."

Rehab Priest Takes Bride In the Bowery

NEW YORK (UPI)—James H. Carter, an Episcopal priest who went from preaching to presidents to a life on skid row after personal tragedy, was married Saturday in the Bowery mission where he rediscovered the religion which led to his rehabilitation.

Carter, 59, was married to Hermine Elizabeth Schmid, a 49-year-old Warwick telephone operator whom he met in another mission for skid row derelicts. It was the first marriage in the history of the 90-year-old mission.

Carter's best man, Leo Heller, was a former drinking buddy who is married to the bride's sister. But no non-reformed derelicts were among the 175 guests who crowded the mission chapel.

Carter, a member of one of Virginia's most prominent families, was assigned to St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Washington in 1937. One of the members of his congregation was President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Belleayre: Peace and Quiet During the Summer

By JON POWERS

HIGHMOUNT
After the last patch of snow disappears with the first warm days of spring, Belleayre Mountain is transformed from a citadel of ice and snow to a lonely sentinel overlooking the green, forest covered valleys of the Catskill Mountains.

From December, through March the Belleayre Mountain Ski Center is a haven for snow enthusiasts from Pennsylvania and New Jersey to Vermont and Canada. But the summer months attract only birds and squirrels and a few travelers who discover that the rolling hills and peaceful valleys are as mysterious as an enchanted land.

Summertime Claim

Belleayre's summertime claim to fame is a breathtaking ride in an open air chairlift to the mountain's top, 3375 feet above sea level. If you're lucky enough to mount the swaying chair without getting a good rap on the backside, and an equally strong blow to your pride, the rest of the ride is a cinch. The only dangerous part of the ten minute ride to the top is if you happen to dangle your feet and drop your shoe to the grassy slope some 20-30 feet below.

On a warm, summer day, however, only about 100 people take advantage of the ride and the attractive picnic area.

claim to fame is a breathtaking ride in an open air chairlift to the mountain's top, 3375 feet above sea level. If you're lucky enough to mount the swaying chair without getting a good rap on the backside, and an equally strong blow to your pride, the rest of the ride is a cinch. The only dangerous part of the ten

Belleayre Mountain, like just about any other mountain, has two sides and when you dismount the chair lift at the top (another sticky maneuver) the sweeping view of Ulster and Sullivan Counties to the south and Kingston and the Hudson River Valley to the east leaves the sightseer in a perplexing situation: you don't know where to look first.

Some people claim that the spire of St. James Methodist Church in Kingston can be seen on a clear day from this lofty station. And the natives from the Highmount are say that, from the top of Belleayre, "You can see anything you want to see."

More Breathtaking

The trip back down, if possible, is more breathtaking than the ride to the top. For the hardy and adventurous, there are winding trails that lead, eventually, to the bottom.

And endless parade of dancing, bright yellow chairs act as scouts during the return trip. Near the top of Belleayre, if you look straight out, a succession of lofty peaks and gently rolling valleys extend to the horizon.

Belleayre is not known as a summer resort, and there is some question whether it is known in the summer at all. But Wilson Sears, supervisor of the state-owned area 40 miles west of Kingston, has plans to change all that. A public swimming pool, additional picnic and parking areas and a nine hole, par 3 golf course are, according to Sears, already on the drawing board.

But Sears was not optimistic about the plan becoming a reality in the near future. He cited the tight-fisted money policies of the state legislature as the main reason for his doubts.

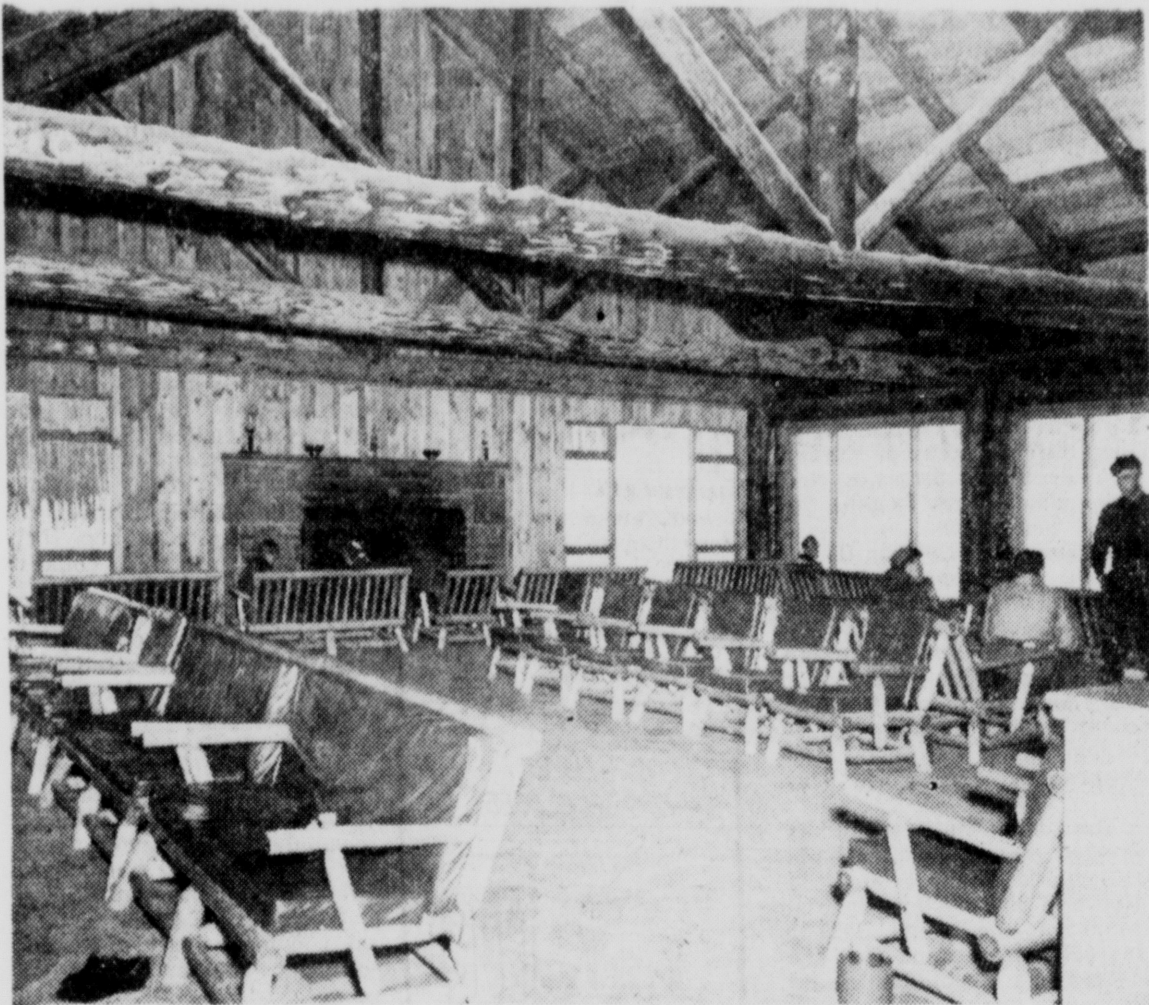

No matter what happens to Belleayre in the summer, its greatest fame still lies in the hands of snow-making mother nature.

Boring in Summer

James Smith, who has operated the chair lift at Belleayre for the past 10 years, prefers the winter months and the accompanying crowds who jam the ski site every day, to the lazy days of summer. "On a slow day in summer," he said, "the job gets pretty boring." He added that it's more pleasant in the summer but said that the experienced winter crowds are more adept at mounting and dismounting the lifts.

And Sears stated that more people use the facilities at Belleayre on a single winter day, than during the entire summer and fall season, which justifies the signs posted around the lodge that read, "Think Snow NOW."

For the family in search of a quiet, panoramic spot in which to have a weekend picnic, Belleayre Mountain, just an hour's drive from Kingston, is an ideal spot. But, if the ski rack is already mounted on the family car and the first snow fall brings cries of ecstacy instead of groans, then relief is near at hand. Winter (perish the thought) is just a few months away.

THE LODGE AT BELLEAYRE: IT'S A DIFFERENT WORLD IN THE SUMMER.

Ulster Community Will Offer Two Real Estate Courses in Fall

STONE RIDGE
Ulster County Community College will offer two real estate courses in the evening in the Fall Semester in response to demands from members of the community, Ronald A. Koster, Director of Continuing Education, said today.

The two are Principles of Real Estate I and Real Estate Appraisal. Both will be offered at the College extension center in Kingston High School, with the Appraisal course being on Wednesday nights and the Principles course on Thursday nights. The hours for both are 7 to 9:40 o'clock.

Interested persons can register for both courses the nights of Sept. 2 and 3 at the College's Stone Ridge campus.

Mr. Koster said the Appraisal course should be a particular interest to various town assessors throughout the county. He noted that legislation has been introduced in the Legislature to require all assessors to take such a course.

The Real Estate Appraisal course (Bus 243) is a study of the function and role of the real estate appraiser. It also will deal with methods of appraisal and reporting, site evaluation and theories of land use and development.

Principles of Real Estate I (Bus 241) covers the topics of brokerage, agency management, contracts, deeds, leasing, taxation, liens, instruments, evaluation and appraisal. Also covered will be regulatory agencies, mortgages, land utilization and condemnation. This course is approved by New York State as preparation for licensing examination for Real Estate Agents and Brokers.

OEO Group Moves Office

KINGSTON
The Main Office of Ulster County Community Action Committee, Inc. was moved to 336 Clinton Avenue.

This is directly opposite the Senate House Museum.

The telephone number will remain the same. All mail should still be addressed to Uptown Post Office, Box 796, according to Eddie Parker, executive director.

Guilty Plea

Douglas Perry, 20, a resident of this city and a member of the U. S. Marines, pleaded guilty Friday before City Judge Hubert A. Richter to a charge of driving a motor vehicle without a license.

Perry was fined $100 and given a 90-day conditional discharge, with the understanding that he returns to the Marine base at Camp Lejeune, N. C. He was booked by police on July 27.

Further information about by calling or writing the Office these courses or all Fall Se-of Continuing Education at the master offerings can be obtained College's Stone Ridge campus.

Nation's Crime Wave

Public attention is focused on THE crime wave in America—meaning street crimes and crimes of violence.

But actually, "law-enforcement is caught in a rip-tide of a dozen other crime waves," says one lawyer. Each one of these "crime waves" is different and requires different responses but traditional law enforcement is foundering in the face of them, says Charles E. Moylan Jr., state's attorney of Baltimore and president of the Maryland State's Attorneys Association.

Coping with the kind of crime most people think of when they use the word is mainly a tactical problem—a question of enough men and enough money.

"A metropolitan police department is the night watch multiplied five-hundredfold," he says. "An assistant district attorney cross-examining a masked robber or queen's counsel questioning a Yorkshire highwayman ask the same questions with the same rules of evidence to prove the same elements of the same crimes . . . The cutpurse and pickpocket, Jack the Ripper and the Boston Strangler differ only in time and not in kind."

But consider these "crimes" which the lawmakers of pastoral 17th-century England and America never dreamed of:

● Commercial fraud. When a victim yells, "Help, I'm being robbed," there is a patrolman to come running. But when a victim yells, "Help, the used car salesman turned back the speedometer," no one comes to his aid.

Consumer protection bureaus are in their infancy and will have to grow a thousandfold to meet commercial fraud, which is a crime wave almost as massive as street violence, claims Moylan.

● Alcohol-related crime. In any year in any large city, arrests for drunkenness outnumber those for rape, robbery, murder, manslaughter and larceny combined.

This crime has a symptomatology all its own and requires a treatment all its own, but we are only beginning to give intelligent thought to it.

● Traffic violations. This "crime wave" is bigger than all the others put together. The ranks of these criminals include no willful felons, but they outkill the murderers 10 to one and inflict property damage greater than that of all the burglars, robbers, thieves and arsonists.

● Accumulated laws. This is the product not of a breakdown of law and order but of a build-up of law and order—the tens of thousands of regulations that become necessary when millions of people swarm together in anthills.

Our farmer ancestors could not have conceived of being hauled into court and fined for spitting on the street, for hunting without license, for building a new back porch without a permit, for not licensing a dog, for singing loudly in the middle of the night, etc., etc.

Other "crime waves" straining the antique machinery of the law and jamming the courts include domestic squabbles—paternity and nonsupport suits and the like—and commercialized vice—the so-called victimless crimes of bookmaking, gambling, lotteries and prostitution which depend upon the affluent society for their support as well as the destitute society.

Other examples for local tax evasion, whose scope we cannot even estimate because local police forces are not structured or staffed to make this type of investigation, and employ larceny, which yearly saps millions of dollars from businesses.

There is one "crime wave," however, which unlike all the others seems to be receding and may eventually disappear. These are the moral crimes, such as adultery, homosexuality, obscenity, the private sexual conduct of married couples or consenting adults.

This crime wave is receding not because of diminished incidents, but because of diminished public concern over the incidents. Sexual morality is simply tending less and less to be catalogued in the area of crime.

But except for this one category, law enforcement is overextended to the point of collapse, says Moylan, and murders, rapes, robberies and burglaries, for all their multiplication, have very little to do with it.

Postal Service Impossible

Everyone who has run or been responsible for, or studied the Post Office Department in recent years believes that, under present conditions, it is almost impossible to give good postal service. Everyone, that is, except Congress. There the entrenched special interests, particularly the postal unions and the members of Congress who value their patronage privileges over the public interest are so firmly against it that the chances of improvement are almost nil.

Two years ago, Lawrence F. O'Brien as Postmaster General, urged turning the department, its equipment and its 750,000 employees over to a Government-owned corporation. His successors, both Democrats and Republicans, agreed. So did President Johnson and now President Nixon. Bipartisan support for the plan ends on Capitol Hill, where it must be made law, if it is to get off the ground.

Soviet, Not U. S., Viewed As Main Threat by China

By LEON DENNEN.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA)—Ever since Russia's Communist chief Leonid Brezhnev proposed the creation of a system of collective security in Asia, Peking has been hinting at the "imminence" of war between Red China and the Soviet Union.

There is nothing the Chinese fear more than a strong Soviet presence in what they regard as their sphere of influence.

President Nixon's journey to Asia seems to have confirmed their suspicions that eventually the two nuclear nations, Russia and the United States, will ignore their differences in a joint effort to "encircle" China.

However, Moscow and not Washington is regarded as the main threat by the Chinese. Western diplomats who recently visited Peking told this writer in Europe that Premier Chou En-lai was convinced that war with Russia was imminent.

"Contrary to what some experts might think in the West a reconciliation between the two powerful Communist nations is not in the cards," one diplomat said.

"The Chinese would rather swallow the bitter pill and seek a rapprochement with the United States than bow to what they consider as Moscow's imperialism."

This also is the view of an important Soviet educator who recently found asylum in the West. "The Russian-Chinese conflict has long ceased to be merely a propaganda or paper war," he warned.

All along the Russian-Chinese border of 4,000 miles, propaganda charges and countercharges are in ceaselessly backed by troop reinforcements and escalating armed skirmishes.

According to Soviet broadcasts to Asia, Mao Tse-tung's "propaganda machine" is continuing its unrelenting clement to war frenzy in China.

Peking, in turn, has again accused the Russians of repeated violations of Chinese territory, especially along the Sinkiang frontier, home of China's nuclear power.

The Chinese even claim that the Russians are resorting to germ warfare by "releasing thousands of infected mice" on their territory. According to the Soviet defector, this claim, fantastic though it may seem, should not be dismissed lightly in the West.

The Russians are believed to have some 350,000 troops on the Chinese border and 300 medium-range nuclear missiles. Peking may have even more soldiers but less advanced weapons.

So far Moscow has been unable to convince other members of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact Organization to send even observers to the Far East as a gesture of their support of Russia.

But the Kremlin leaders are reported to have created a Viet Cong-type "national liberation army" of Uighurs, Kazakhs, Uzbeks and other Buddhist and Moslem peoples who inhabit much of Soviet Central Asia.

Armed and trained by Red Army officers, this army is led by Gen. Zenon Taiyov, a former officer of the Chinese army of Uighur origin, who deserted to the view of some Western diplomats, Gen. Taiyov has been designated as the premier of an "independent" Eastern Turkistan Republic should Sinkiang again become a Soviet-dominated province.

Peking is obviously aware of the activities of Moscow's guerrillas. "The Soviet revisionist renegade clique has gone so far as to organize youth in regions bordering on China into special organizations and give them military training," said China's People's Daily.

According to reports of Western intelligence, the Russian-Chinese border clashes have produced panic in Central Asia. People living near the Chinese border who are of non-Soviet ethnic origin (Greeks, Turks, Persians, etc.) have come under the surveillance of the secret police, KGB.

These people have begun hoarding food and other goods and the Soviet authorities are powerless to quell the rising tide of panic.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

One of the things which shake the poor when they meet the rich is to discover that they don't spend it. They hang on. When the dinner check arrives, the richest man in the party is in the john humming: "You've come a long way, baby!" The difference between the poor and the rich is that the poor spend it, the rich talk about it.

I know. Some of my worst friends are millionaires. None of them are name-droppers. They drop money—orally. How else can they stay up there and make more money? And that, my friends, is truly the name of the game. What good is earning a million if a man doesn't take dead aim on the second one? And what good are two if they don't have playmates?

It was Ambrose Bierce who said that "everything comes out even in the end—the rich get their ice in the summertime; the poor get theirs in the winter." Old John Rockefeller got a treasure in good publicity by handing out dimes to children. Shiny ones.

August Heckscher had billions, but he walked to work on sunny days and took the I.R.T. subway on rainy ones. Cost him a nickel, in those days. Each way. Henry Ford dressed as though someone had dyed a couple of burlap sacks and sewed buttons on them. If he paid more than $30 for a suit, he was robbed.

Joseph P. Kennedy was known to preside at Palm Beach dinners for the clan, and to observe dryly of a daughter-in-law: "I understand she bought another mink coat, son. What happened to the other one?" This is bound to help young teeth grinding on an artichoke. It is said that Mr. K. established a million dollar trust fund for each of the children—after teaching them how to hang on to it, squeezing the interest like orange juice.

When Jack was elected to The Congress in 1946, he was rated one of the most eligible bachelors in Washington. He dated the Georgetown girls and took them to the movies. There, at the cashier's booth, he would fan his pockets meditatively, turn to the girl, and moan: "I think I forgot my wallet. Could you lend me a few dollars?" The word spread that if Jack dated a girl, she should carry a little extra mad money in her purse.

Nor did it stop there. Bill Greer of the Secret Service was the President's driver, and he learned that our Chief Executive never carried money in his pockets. When Kennedy needed a few bucks, he asked Greer to lend it. The driver kept a "book" with dates and amounts. With a slight prod, the President paid it back.

Onassis takes the children to the zoo, but no one ever saw him throw a peanut at an elephant. He was going to build a big castle on an island for his bride—whatever happened to that hut? And yet it could be worse. I've known of rich men who, the moment the honeymoon was over, stuck a mop in the bride's hand.

There was one who used to empty the ash trays when the guests left, open the butts, and fill his pipe. Billy Rose, the biggest single stockholder in A.T. & T., tried to impress me. He thought he had it solved. I was taken for a ride in his Silver Cloud Rolls-Royce from 90th Street to 48th. A buck and a half cab ride.

Stavros Niarchos, another plush Greek, married Charlotte Ford. He was older than her father. Niarchos was cheap, but Charlotte was cheaper. She knew the value of a buck by instinct. When they broke up, she tried to sell him some of his own dinnerware.

Henry Ehrlich, writing about Charlotte in Look Magazine, paints a lovely courtship. When Charlotte refused to buy a dress, Niarchos called her "the cheapest thing I ever saw." Charlotte has a tongue. She called him a "bloody bore" and a "dirty old man." At once, he fell in love with her and they lived scrappily ever after.

It is rare for two wealthy lovers to fight over insignificant amounts, but Stav and Char had a go at it. The marriage broke up and Stav promised to support his baby, Elena. "Even my lawyer thought he was generous," Charlotte says. Any millionaire can afford that gesture if he knows he's going to be absent-minded about sending the checks. And Stav had a mental block about sending the checks.

Mrs. Niarchos spent $100,000 on an extra room for her penthouse, but she has her chauffeur drive her to Korvettes in New York for cut-rate drugs. She stands in line to buy her groceries at the A & P. The lady says she gave Elena a toy carpet sweeper to run over the rug when the kid drops crumbs.

This should give you a few hints about how to become a millionaire. And who says you can't take it with you? If Onassis can't take it with him, he's not going...

Drew Pearson Says The Fight Against Inflation Vital to Nation's Economy

WASHINGTON—There are four reasons why last week's stock market slide caused worry in Wall Street and Washington:

1) The spiral of ever-increasing wages, consumers goods prices plus taxes is squeezing the middle class. And when the middle class, with the biggest aggregate buying power in the nation, starts to lose that power, recession can accelerate.

2) Increased wages are sending the cost of U.S. exports so high that we are pricing ourselves out of foreign markets. This is equivalent to the tariff barriers erected by the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act in the Hoover administration which helped trigger the Greatest Depression.

3) Interest rates are so high that building construction, hitherto the bell ringer of the economy, has slowed up.

4) The European economy was kept at a high level after World War I by reparations payments from Germany which were pumped into France, England and Italy. But where did that reparations money actually come from? Not from Germany, but from Wall Street loans to Germany, negotiated in part by John Foster Dulles, then the attorney for the bankers.

When these loans began to bounce, as they did midway through Hoover's first term, the entire economy of Europe and the United States started collapsing. Thus began the Great Depression.

Following World War II, the United States pumped huge amounts of foreign aid, at one time totalling around $8 billion a year, into foreign economies. We have now cut this down to a trickle. This could have the same effect as curtailing bank loans and reparations after World War I.

The United States today has erected many more economic safeguards than existed in Hoover's day. Nevertheless, some of the same 1929-31 ingredients exist and they are causing political and economic uneasiness not only on Wall Street but all over Europe.

Long Stock Market Decline

The stock market has been in a major decline for two months, and individual stock investors have lost millions and even billions of dollars. Major industrial firms are cutting back on capital spending plans. The latest University of Michigan survey of consumer buying intentions shows consumers are becoming pessimistic; they expect inflation to grow.

In the United States, wages and prices continue spiraling with no end in sight. Taxes are hitting everyone's income as government costs keep soaring. Yet people are buying new cars, new appliances, new homes, new clothes as if they had money-making machines. Young couples with husband and wife both working are living on a scale of affluence that would mean instant catastrophe if either lost their job. And very few of them have any savings which could cushion them through a long period of unemployment.

Illustrating the zooming labor costs, asphalt truck drivers in New York last month won a wage increase of $57 a week, which will net them $266.80 for a 40-hour week—far more than is made by most university teachers and by highly skilled professional workers.

In New York, these and other increases will boost the cost of building labor by 35 per cent. The building trades unionists will have more money to spend on their homes, but there will be fewer homes for other people in New York.

No Inflation Curbs

So far the Nixon administration, though concerned about inflation has done little to curb it. When kindly Secretary of the Treasury David Kennedy was asked at a private luncheon what was to be done regarding the high cost of labor in the New York building trades, he replied: "The construction companies don't need to hire them."

When asked what would be done in the case of a strike in the building trades, he replied: "That's the problem of the Secretary of Labor."

Despite this bland approach, Secretary Kennedy has gone further than any other Cabinet member in proposing energetic controls on inflation—namely, wage and price controls. But, each time, his chief in the White House, Richard Nixon, hit the ceiling. The President has been so irked that White House staff members are making "book" that Kennedy will be the first staff member to go.

So the economy has continued drifting. President Nixon is still relying on "conventional means"—high interest rates and tight money—to curb inflation. But clearly they are not working.

There is no question but that the recent decline in the stock market was welcomed by the top men in Wall Street and the bankers who are working closely with Washington.

But once a depression starts it isn't easy to stop. If one hits the United States the whole free world will be involved, since foreign nations would lose their markets in the United States and their economies would collapse also.

Governments would topple. The government of Italy is trying to extricate itself from the difficult bind right now. One Italian general, Giovanni di Lorenzo, was removed as chief of staff for plotting against the government. Significantly, he was promptly elected by the people to be a member of parliament, where he has immunity.

Adolph Hitler came to power in Germany largely because of that country's economic chaos.

A lot of people still remember the collapse of the stock market in 1929, the long bread lines, the men selling apples on the streets, millions of families going hungry every day.

It doesn't have to happen here. But it could happen unless we take vigorous measures to combat it.

Henry J. Taylor Says The Kennedy Answers: Much to Be Learned

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's 1972 presidential nomination potential, now affected, has largely unknown roots in the actual behind-the-scenes situation which caused his presidential disclaimer at the 1968 Democratic convention in Chicago.

Democratic leaders agreed that Senator Kennedy did not decide to issue his final statement that he would not go after the presidential nomination until late on the night before the balloting, a Tuesday night that saw the all-out TV castigation of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Behind the scenes, however, Mr. Kennedy was soliciting Mr. Daley's support for the presidential nomination. In three appeals that same night Mr. Daley rebuffed Mr. Kennedy's nomination hopes three times.

Moreover, Mr. Kennedy issued his disclaimer statement only when, combined with the Daley refusal, his Chicago agents determined that the help he was hoping for from Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy would not come to him.

Mr. Kennedy's refusal of a vice-presidential nomination was an honest disavowal out his pursuit of the presidential nomination was an accompanying fact.

The final defeat of Mr. Kennedy's intentions, the clincher, came when the big labor-controlled delegations from Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio refused to go along with his appeals. They notified Mr. Kennedy in Hyannis Port that they were sticking with AFL-CIO President George Meany's candidate—Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey.

With Mr. Humphrey's election defeat, even though incredibly narrow, the professional element in the party turned strongly to the youngest Kennedy in dramatic contrast to its reaction to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

When Robert Kennedy announced his candidacy for the presidency a United Press International survey showed only three state party chairmen willing to go on record as encouraging the Kennedy candidacy. Twenty-four other chairmen and party leaders opposed him in varying degrees and some nine others were non-committal but basically negative.

However, in the currently debated effect of the Chapquidick Island event on Mr. Kennedy's 1972 presidential nomination potential, Kennedy friend Charles Bartlett writes: "The enthusiasm for Ted Kennedy has been for many Democrats unabashedly opportunistic. It took little account of the young man's qualifications."

The New York Times (July 27), in turn, further dilutes the good effect of Mr. Kennedy's TV presentation by quoting a Kennedy Hyannis Port compound source as stating that the most difficult division among Kennedy's advisers was not any idea that he resign, but whether or not in the face of the evidence he should plead guilty of leaving the scene of an accident. "There was never any essential doubt about resignation," quotes the Times. "It was just a matter of timing the TV statement."

Yet Senator Kennedy said on TV he was considering resigning.

In addition, pro-Kennedy leaders in the Democratic party find Mr. Kennedy's 1972 potential further subjected to the gradually emerging facts about the tragedy itself.

Among other things, they still confront the mystery of why only—only—Senator Kennedy and two friends returned to the wrecked automobile. Inquiries on this strange and vital point apparently meet a stonewall silence.

When Mr. Kennedy reached the weekend cottage after summoning no one on the way, and after passing two well-lit houses about 100 yards from the fateful Dike Bridge, he summoned outside only two of the six or seven men in the cottage. These were Paul Markham and Joseph M. Gargan.

Yet any rescue attempt, or any useful aid, would obviously require at the wrecked and sunken car all the people that could be summoned from the cottage and, of course, a general, frantic alarm. Nor, until Mr. Kennedy spoke on TV seven days later, was it revealed that he did return to the car, and that he took only two men back with him.

Inherent in this fact, the question inevitably arises regarding the possibility that there was in the car some evidence, some object, which could add to the tragic incriminations, and that it was removed from the car.

Markham and Gargan, both lawyers, would face disbarment charges under certain circumstances if they helped remove such evidence, and their apparent failure to answer the persisting questions, along with Senator Kennedy, evokes a continuing anxiety among pro-Kennedy leaders in the Democratic party that time will not soften, but will further intensify, Mr. Kennedy's Presidential problem as the fuller facts of the tragedy unfold.

A Serious Loss in Personal Appeal for Ted Kennedy

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 2—
In the aftermath of his July 18 accident which took the life of Mary Jo Kopechne, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy has fallen sharply in terms of public esteem for him as a person. However, his political standing in a nationwide test race against Richard Nixon and George Wallace remains unchanged compared with earlier April results.

On Saturday, July 26, the day after Senator Kennedy went on network television to explain the details of the fatal accident, Gallup Poll interviewers began questioning a full-scale sample of the nation's adults.
They survey, which reach 1,419 persons in over 300 localities, was completed Monday, July 28, prior to Kennedy's announcement that he intended to run for the Senate again in 1970.

A comparison of this survey with an exactly comparable one last March shows a decline in "extremely favorable" attitudes toward Kennedy, as a person from 49 per cent to 34 per cent. In terms of actual numbers of people, these percentages indicate that Kennedy has lost, temporarily at least, the high regard of some 18 million Americans.

The decline in extremely favorable attitudes has been accompanied by an increase in "extremely unfavorable" attitudes, from 4 per cent in the earlier survey to 11 per cent today.

Despite these sharp shifts in extreme feelings about Kennedy, overall favorable attitudes continue to outweigh unfavorable attitudes by a wide margin, 3-to-1 in the latest survey.

First Evidence of Political Effect

Senator Kennedy has not lost political ground in relation to Richard Nixon and George Wallace. In an April survey, Kennedy's share of the vote in a three-way trial heat against Nixon and Wallace was 33 per cent. His vote today is 36 per cent.

It is important to bear in mind that the above trial heat results reflect not only attitudes toward Senator Kennedy, but toward President Nixon and George Wallace as well. Party allegiance is also a factor.
Many Democrats for example, may now have a lesser regard for Kennedy as a person but still do not want to jump party lines.

Scale Used for Before-After Test

To determine the impact of recent events on Senator Kennedy, a sensitive attitude measuring device called the Stapel Scalometer was employed.

The Stapel Scalometer consists of 16 numbered squares going from plus five—or someone liked very much—all the way down to minus five—or someone disliked very much.
Each respondent is asked to indicate the square that best describes his feelings about a particular person.

The following table compares the latest ratings with those recorded in March:

Trial Heats Compared

To determine the impact of recent events on Senator Kennedy's political standing, the Gallup Poll in the latest survey repeated a "test election" question asked last April:

To get some idea of the national political situation at this early stage, suppose the presidential election were being held today and Richard Nixon were the Republican candidate, Sen.
Edward Kennedy were the Democratic candidate and George Wallace ran again as a third party candidate. Which Should Not Resign

A small-scale national Gallup survey, conducted Tuesday night by telephone with 110 adults, showed sentiment about 9-to-1 opposed to Senator Kennedy resigning from the Senate. At the same time, however, the survey revealed that at least half of all persons interviewed were not entirely satisfied with Kennedy's explanation of the events surrounding the July 18 accident.

Here are some typical verbatim comments recorded in Tuesday night's interviewing:
"Senator Kennedy's human-like the rest of us," said the 47-year-old wife of a machine operator from Wisconsin, who thinks Kennedy should not resign from the Senate. "People have a tendency to demand too much of public figures."

Questions Left Unanswered

But a 51-year-old resident from New York holds different views: "There are too many questions left unanswered about this whole business. Money has helped him—if he were a person of lesser means, he'd be in real trouble right now."
"That family's had so much tragedy already," said a 63-year-old minister from High Point, N.C. "I wouldn't want to pass judgment. Personally, I like the man."

'Too Much Covered Up'

Another respondent in the survey, the wife of a plant production manager, commented: "I feel there is too much that has been covered up."
"Why didn't he contact the police earlier?"
A young homeowner from Toledo, Ohio, the wife of a truck driver, said: "Senator Kennedy's okay with me. I don't believe any of the stuff that's been going around about him since his accident."

A 13-year-old Hastings,

Nebraska resident said: "Ted Kennedy is a big figure and therefore gets picked on too much, but I'd have to admit that I have some real doubts about him after his accident."

"I have always liked the Kennedys," remarked an army officer's wife from Texas. "I feel that I can trust Teddy Kennedy even after what happened. After all, accidents can happen to any of us."

Rawhide Ranch Slates Annual Rodeo Aug. 9-10

On Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 9 and 10, at 2 p.m., Rawhide Ranch in Lake Hill will present its annual rodeo sponsored by the Ontario Lions Club with 200 horses in action. The Rawhide Ranch, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Franks is the largest childrens ranch in the United States. This year they have 158 boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 14 attending for the eight week season. Rawhide is a real working ranch, not just a camp. Each "rancher" is assigned a horse for the season and this horse is his responsibility. The 1,200 acre ranch located on Mink Hollow Road in Lake Hill, just off Route 212, is five miles from Woodstock. It features individual stalls for 200 horses, two swimming pools, a large modern dining hall and a huge converted barn that serves as a recreation hall. Once each year, the Franks' open the ranch to the public and stage an honest-to-goodness, rootin' tootin' rodeo that features their campers as well as professional cowboys competing on bucking broncos and wild bulls as well as calf roping and bull doging. The ranchers compete in games on horseback, formation riding, barrel racing, pole bending, and musical chairs. There will also be an exhibition of trick riding and roping.

Local Volunteer Firemen Hear Reports of Events

A total of 47 emergency calls were reported to the four-company meeting of the Woodstock Fire Department held at the Zena firehouse, for the period ending July 1.

Get Acquainted Social Held by Fresh Air Hosts

WOODSTOCK Approximately 42 persons were in attendance at a Get Acquainted With Fresh Air Hosts and Hits coffee held last week at the church parlor of the Overlook United Methodist Church, Woodstock. These were host families who are anticipating the arrival on July 30 of the Fresh Air children they have invited to their homes for a two week summer vacation. Among those participating in this summer's program through the Woodstock committee of the Fresh Air Fund program are:

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Gebert, Mr. and Mrs. John Ebbs, Mr. and Mrs. David Brush, Mr. and Mrs. George Spolotta, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mannix, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Grad, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Desy, Mr. and Mrs. William Margopoulos, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kenly, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Molyneux, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Shove.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Farnett, Mr. and Mrs. Hiland Newkirk, Mr. and Mrs. William Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ettinger, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Viglielmo, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Perry.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sammartino, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Batiuk of Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ollinger and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dubovick of Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rokoff of Glenford, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wesselman of Shokan, Mr. and Mrs. James Hadley of Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. James Frederickson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mathews of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Paul de Laura and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopkins of Stone Ridge, and Mr. and Mrs. William Carr, Mr. and Mrs. John Spindler and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beck of West Hurley.

Church Fair

The annual church fair and supper of Christ's Lutheran Church 28 Mill Hill Road, Woodstock, will be held on Saturday.

The fair will be selling new and handmade articles, as well as baked goods and plants, and will start at noon.

The supper, starting at 4 p.m., will feature barbecued chicken.

Antique Show At Red Barn Set Aug. 7-10

WOODSTOCK The 20th annual antique show and sale will be held in the historical Red Barn located in Elwyn Lane, which intersects Mill Hill Road across from Grand Union. The show will be held August 7-8-9-10. Opening 11 a.m. and closing 10 p.m. except Sunday, when it will close at 6 p.m.

There will be many fine antiques offered for sale which will delight those looking for something very special. This year antique clocks and Civil War items will be a new attraction. Fine art glass, choice antique jewelry, porcelains, pewter, paintings, and many surprises will be offered.

Furniture including primitive, period and cottage will also be featured.

Plenty of free supervised parking is provided. A snack bar is also provided.

Stresses 100 Per Cent

WOODSTOCK Paul L. DeLisio of Woodstock, who recently announced he is seeking the GOP nomination for town councilman at the Republican caucus in September emphasized this week that he would put 100 per cent of his energy into the election and duties of town councilman.

In the recent announcement a typographical omission dropped a zero from the 100 per cent figure and this is not to infer that DeLisio will give less than his full time to his efforts at election and if elected his subsequent duties as town councilman.

SEC Chairman Called On Interest Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, who has declared "I'll answer all your questions," was called before a Senate subcommittee today to defend himself against conflict of interest allegations.

SEC Chairman Hamer H. Budge told the Senate banking and currency subcommittee last Wednesday, when it opened hearings, that he would reply fully to charges he breached ethics by considering a job with mutual funds his agency regulates.

The committee directed Budge to return, for testimony today after he said there were so many allegations he wanted adequate time to answer them.

Man Jailed On Assault, 3rd

MILTON — Accused of cutting a young woman in her home Saturday night, Clarence E. Bouldin, 20, of the Town of Marlboro, was arrested by Highland State Police on a charge of second degree assault.

Bouldin allegedly cut 21-year-old Brenda Moore of this community during an argument at her home. She was treated for lacerations of the left hand and forearm which required eight sutures.

The defendant was arraigned before Town Justice Patrick Mataraza. On recommendation of Asst. Dist. Atty. Philip Schunk, the charge was reduced to third degree assault. Bouldin pleaded guilty and was fined $100. In lieu of payment of the fine he was committed to the county jail for 30 days. Troopers C. J. Behense and R. J. Faugh conducted the investigation and arrested the accused youth.

Sends Military

MANILA (UPI) — Military reinforcements were sent today into Tarlac Province, about 30 miles north of Manila, when Communist Huk guerrillas shot to death eight persons—including four Philippine marines—in weekend terrorism.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened higher today in moderately active trading.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator was up 0.87 per cent on 338 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 197 advanced, and 73 declined.

Oils showed scattered strength, while autos edged up slightly. Electronics were mixed and chemicals gained.

Pan Am, a heavily traded airline, picked up 1/4 to 1 1/4.

In the aerospace group, United Aircraft added 1/2 to 5 1/2, and McDonnell-Douglas was up 3/4 to 28.

Du Pont rose 1/2 to 126 in the chemical group. Dow picked up 1/2 to 72 1/4.

Among the electronics, Westinghouse climbed 3/4 to 56 1/4, National Cash Register 1/2 to 132 1/4, and IBM 1 1/4 to 331 1/4.

In the oils, Standard of California picked up 1/2 to 51 1/4, while Atlantic Richfield, trading ex-dividend, was unchanged at 106 1/4.

Chrysler gained 3/4 to 38 1/4 in the autos.

Brothers Drown

BORETO, Italy (UPI)—Four teen-aged brothers drowned in the Po River when one of them was trapped in strong current and the others jumped into rescue him, police said today. Authorities said the boys decided to go to the river to avoid crowds on nearby beaches.

APOLLO MODELS — Pretty Lois Gainsboro of Miami, Fla., holds one of the four models of the Saturn Rocket and lunar landing module that took Apollo 11 astronauts to the moon. The models, now on display at the International Jewelry Trade Fair at the New York Hilton Hotel, will be presented to the astronauts when they visit New York City later this month. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Hanoi Frees 3 Yanks, Two Fliers and Sailor

MOSCOW (UPI)—North Vietnamese announced today it had released three American prisoners of war—two U.S. Navy fliers and a sailor, the Soviet news agency Tass reported from Hanoi.

The same announcement was broadcast by Radio Hanoi which said they were turned over to a committee of seven American pacifists who had gone to Hanoi to pick up the men.

Tass reported the Americans as U.S. Navy Lt. Robert Frishman, 29, and Wesley Rumble, 26, both fliers, and Douglas Hagdud, 23, an enlisted man from the cruiser U.S.S. Canberra.

Tass said the "American servicemen thanked the main political department of the North Vietnam Army, the Hanoi government and the Vietnamese people for setting them free and for their humanitarian treatment of prisoners at the prisoner of war camp."

In Vientiane, Laos, an International Control Commission (ICC) plane was awaiting clearance from Hanoi for an expected Tuesday flight to pick up the three prisoners. Hanoi said the men were being turned over by "The Vietnam Committee for Solidarity with the American People."

New College Post

NEW YORK (AP)—An associate dean at the University of Rochester has been named a special assistant to the president of Rockefeller University in New York.

Dr. Albert Gold was named to the post assisting Dr. Frederick Seitz. Gold was associate dean of Rochester's college of engineering and applied science, with responsibility for graduate and research programs.

Annual Mormon Pageant Draws 97,000 Persons

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP) — An estimated 97,000 persons attended this year's Hill Cumorah Pageant, despite rain that fell during four of the six nights it ran.

About 25,000 persons, most of them prepared with raincoats, umbrellas and other protective gear, watched the closing performance of the Mormon Church-sponsored pageant Saturday night. A brief storm ended just before the scheduled 9 p.m. curfew.

Most of the cast and backstage crew of 600 began heading for their homes Sunday. College-age elders assigned to missionary work in Eastern states stayed behind to pack and store equipment.

Among those leaving Sunday were 160 Brigham Young University coeds who began a four-day bus trip back to Utah.

The pageant, performed annually since 1937, presented scenes from the Bible and the Book of Mormon on 25 stages erected on the hill where Joseph Smith was said to have received golden tablets of the Book of Mormon from the Angel Moroni.

Dutchess Youth Dies in Crash

ROXBORO, N.C. (AP) —

Dennis Michael Gates, 16, of Wappingers Falls, N.Y., was killed Sunday when his car overturned on N.C. 57 near this Piedmont North Carolina town.

The State Highway Patrol said he was alone in the car and there were no witnesses to the accident.

Our fungicide makes the forbidden fruit even more tempting.

Until now, fungicides did one thing: controlled disease. But now, Polyram does more than that. It gives apples a beauty treatment. So they grow up with clear complexions and smooth beautiful skins. It doesn't stop on the surface, either. It works all the way down to the core.

It does a few other lovely things, too. It fights European red mix. It prevents scab and cedar rust and fly speck. Even sooty blotch. And it doesn't cause russetting on sensitive varieties. Polyram: it's an 80% wettable powder. It's easy to handle, leaves a low visible residue, and can be sprayed to within 7 days of harvest. Try it.

Aux. Police Schedule Drill

KINGSTON The Kingston Ulster County Civil Defense Auxiliary Police will conduct a traffic control drill tonight beginning at 7 p.m. in the Kingston High School parking lot.

The drill is in preparation for the Drum Corps Show at Dietz Stadium scheduled for Saturday, August 9.

In the event of rain, the drill will be held Tuesday night at the same time and place. All members of the auxiliary are urged to attend.

Typhoon Alice

TOKYO (UPI) — Typhoon Alice swept towards the Japanese mainland today, packing 68-mile-an-hour winds and sending 13-foot waves crashing against the shore. The weather bureau predicted up to eight inches of rain over Western Japan when the typhoon was expected to hit the mainland later today.

They were booked as Domingo Humez, 25, Bronx; Sixto Franf, 21, and Roman Castro, 25, of Brooklyn.

Arraigned before a local justice on charges of criminal possession of a dangerous drug, second degree, the trio was ordered held for action of an Orange County grand jury. Humez also was charged with possessing a gravity knife, which was described as similar to a switchblade knife.

2-Car Collision Injures Four

STONE RIDGE Four persons, including two children were taken to Kingston Hospital shortly before 10 a. m. today for treatment of injuries sustained in a two-car collision on Peak Road near here.

Trooper J. P. Dunning of Ellenville said details were not complete, but noted the cars were driven by Beatrice Wells of this community, and Moira Jawors, whose address was not available. The vehicles were traveling in opposite directions.

County Gets Aid

Representatives of the Educational Secretaries of the Kingston Area and the Kingston Board of Education Consolidated will meet in executive session at 7:30 p. m. today at the George Washington School to discuss matters relating to an impasse that exists between the two groups in the ESKA 1969-70 contract.

Arthur H. Whithall, board president, noted the meeting is not an open session. ESKA representatives had requested the meeting after the Board on July accepted recommendations of Superintendent of Schools W. Wendell Hoover that did not conform with recommendations of Dr. Louis R. Salveer, fact finder, appointed by the Public Employees Relation Board of the State of New York.

The recommendations of the fact-finder provided for an increase of $200 plus the regular increment, while Dr. Hoover recommended that the present salary structure for 12-month employees should be increased by $125 at each step.

ESKA represents all secretarial and clerical employees of the Kingston School District in addition to school monitors, teacher aides and bus attendants.

Following the executive meeting with ESKA representatives, the board will meet in special session to discuss administrative appointments.

Koenig Urges Early Filing In Drug Rebate

KINGSTON Francis R. Koenig, Democratic-Liberal candidate for mayor, announced today that he has forms at his office at 175 Broadway required for the filing for rebate due to overpayment on certain antibiotics during the period from 1954 to 1966.

Five drug companies were convicted of violation of anti-trust laws in June and as part of the settlement had to establish a fund of $100 million for customer rebates.

The drugs include Aureomycin, Terramycin and Tetramycin and were used for the treatment of respiratory infections, intestinal infections, skin infections and peritonitis.

Koenig urged any person who thinks they may be entitled to a rebate to contact him at his office or home as soon as possible. The deadline for filing is Aug. 16, Koenig said.

The Civil Defense Program Fights for Survival

By PHILIP BALBONI
FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (UPI)—The United States civil defense program is in its most critical phase since the frantic, early days of the cold war. In many ways, it is fighting for its economical survival.

The little-known problems of civil defense—the nationwide program of preparedness against nuclear attack and natural disaster—were explained in an interview with one of the country's top civil defense experts, Allan R. Zenowitz, president of the National Association of State Civil Defense Directors and director of the Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency. He is regarded as one of the best organized and most efficient "CD" men in America.

Zenowitz, an extremely enthusiastic advocate of civil defense, was back from a two-day strategy session in Washington with his eight regional

State Gives County $376,720

ALBANY—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced recently that Ulster County will be the recipient of $376,720 for Social Services for the month of August.

The money represents approximately 80 per cent of the federal and state share of the anticipated welfare expenditures by Ulster County.

A total of $40,902,300 will be distributed to the 63 districts in the state.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, By the Grace of God Free and Independent.
To the Attorney General of the State of New York, and to "John Doe" (the name of "John Doe" being fictitious), the late husband of Bertha Richardson deceased, if living and if dead, to the executors, administrators, distributees or assigns of "John Doe", deceased, whose names and post office addresses are unknown and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained by the petitioner herein; and to the distributees of Bertha Richardson, deceased, whose names and post office addresses are unknown and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained by the petitioner herein being all persons interested in the estate of Bertha Richardson, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, deceased, as executors, legatees, distributees or otherwise.

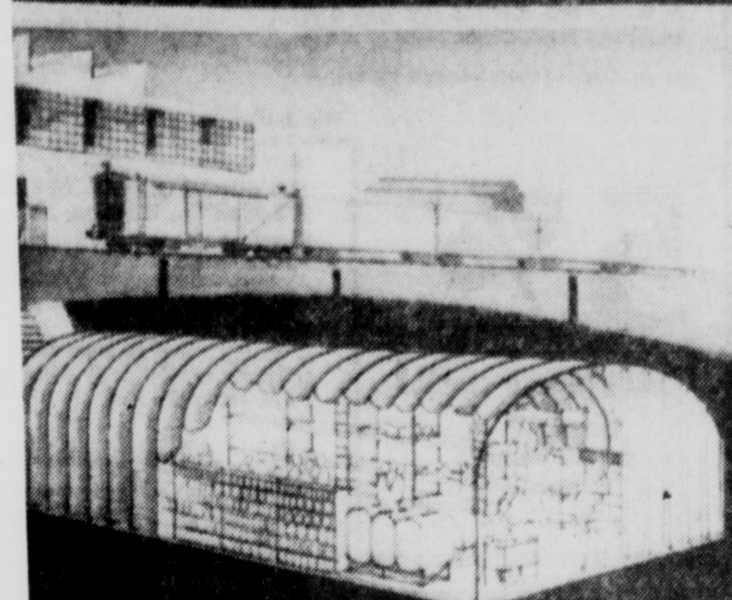

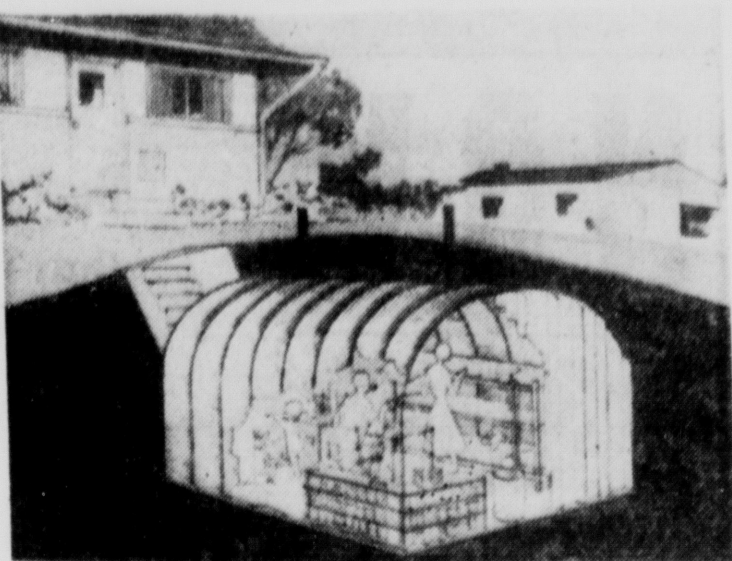

GREETINGS:
YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY CITED TO SHOW CAUSE at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Surrogate's Office in the City of Kingston, N. Y., on the 26th day of August, 1969, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the account of proceedings of Fred H. DuBois of the Town of New Paltz, County of Ulster and State of New York, Administrator of said deceased, should not be judicially settled and allowed upon the petition of said Fred H. DuBois.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

directly, Zenowitz said the civil defense directors were under- sized shelter program, was- pressure from the Pentagon and- other places to come out in- support of the program.

ABM and CD

He freely admitted that should the ABM go down to defeat in Congress or be compromised severely, the burdens of civil defense would be increased vastly.

"This is the last stand for civil defense," Zenowitz said. "No, I'd like to change that—let's say we hope to maintain our present level of operations, but the program is in very severe difficulty and our financial belt gets tighter and tighter all the time."

Congress, Zenowitz said, is being asked for $68 for civil defense nationwide. "What we would need now to give the program real impetus is $150 million in the United States and that would be a drop in the bucket."

"To get a program of real substance you would need $350 million," he said. The chances of getting that amount from a Congress deluged as never before by appropriations requests from every governmental agency, Zenowitz suggested, were almost nonexistent.

One of the director's top assistants, Richard Ridgeway, who sat in on the interview, said if the national CD budget "were cut next year by say another $8 million, we're in deep trouble."

The director also recommended inclusion of shelters in every new federal building and in those which use federal funds for construction (this is now before Congress) combining all disaster preparedness operations into a unified program, greater involvement by the private sector and encouraging young people to enter CD as a career.

Zenowitz summed it up this way: "Civil defense will be with us this whole century because of the world situation. This tin hat and whistle image is a thing of the past. We have nowhere to go but up. My not just waiting for the big worry now is for the man in the street if the balloon goes up defense is a marketable product tomorrow."

—A much improved warning system so a person "will know what is happening, have confidence in government and in survival."

—We're not selling death insurance—this is life insurance and nobody wants to use their life insurance."

Asked what specific steps were needed for the future improvement of civil defense, Zenowitz gave these:

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Miss Reagan: 2 Views of Life

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — When Mom's a movie star and Dad's a star-turned-politician, what does a career-minded girl do?

If her name's Maureen Reagan, daughter of California Gov. Ronald Reagan and actress Jane Wyman, she mixes business with politics. Maureen had wanted to be a star herself but now, at 28, thinks she's too old. So?

Like her father, she works in politics—but unlike him, she toils mostly behind the scenes, in public relations.

"I'm what's known in the trade as a political technician," she says. "I do the work that helps elect candidates."

Blue-eyed and 5-foot-9 Miss Reagan strongly resembles her mother in looks and merry, tinkling laughter. She dropped out of college to become a secretary, has acted in two "horrible" movies, and she's done some night club singing. She wants to become a traveling interviewer-producer in television.

"I dig people," she says. She entered politics in 1960, about the time her father was switching from Democrat to Republican, but the two moves were unconnected.

During Los Angeles' recent mayoralty race, she was at the Democratic Mayor Sam Yorty's headquarters. Yorty, a maverick Democrat, is closer to Republicanism than his unsuccessful Democratic challenger, Negro City Councilman Thomas Bradley.

Now, in a between-campaigns interview at her home, she nibbled cottage and whole wheat wafers. She shares the hard some, second-floor apartment with a girlfriend who is a secretary.

She was 7 when her parents were divorced but says: "There was no great upheaval. There were no problems. My father always spent Christmas with us. Dad would pick us up on week ends and take us to his ranch, where we'd ride, curry the foals, help paint fence and go on picnics."

"Us" meant her and brother Michael, with whom she attend-

Charge Cyclist With Violations

KINGSTON

An 18-year-old youth was cited early Sunday for three violations, after his motorcycle reportedly hit a parked car during a police chase on Shufeldt Street.

William J. Walsh, Box 42, Mt. Marion, was summoned to appear in City Court to face charges of passing a stop sign, speeding and failure to keep to the right. The youth sustained facial lacerations, according to police reports.

Authorities said Walsh was being chased by police when his motorcycle failed to make a right turn at Foxhall Avenue. The 'cycle hit a parked car owned by Robert McCarthy of 180 Foxhall Avenue.

In other police action, Gary Ballou, 22, of 202 West Chestnut Street, was cited for passing two red lights.

Four Promotions Announced at IBM

Area Business

News

WALTER H. READ

DONALD F. RYAN

ARTHUR L. FENAROLI

KINGSTON at Poughkeepsie. He has been employment, compensation and promoted to personnel information, education and management development in the Kingston laboratory of IBM's Systems Development Division and will have managerial responsibilities for personnel services, professional in Wappingers Falls.

Four promotions at International Business Machines Corp. have been announced by Joseph L. Brown, director of the Kingston laboratory of the company.

Walter H. Read has been promoted to manager of Employees Development at IBM's Systems Development Division Headquarters, Harrison. He joined the company at Poughkeepsie in July 1952 as a manufacturing trainee and held numerous technical positions at both Poughkeepsie and Kingston, where he transferred in February, 1955. He, his wife, Gail, and the couple's five children reside in Walker Valley.

Fenaroli was promoted to senior engineer in the Kingston laboratory of IBM's Systems Development Division. An FAA project group manager, he has the SDD project management responsibility through all phases of the FAA 9020 D/E System. He joined Kingston IBM in April 1957 as a design engineer. He, his wife Margherita, and their three children reside in Red Hook.

Kendler was promoted to senior engineer in Machine Technology. He directs two major technology organizations—Circuits Technology and the Materials and Processing Laboratory. He is responsible for circuit development, computer-aided design, packaging development, device modeling, and the specialized disciplines of materials, heat transfer, optics and CRT advanced technology. He joined IBM in January 1961. He, his wife, Joanne, and four children reside in Saugerties.

Ryan joined IBM in June 1959 as a junior industrial engineer

Montgomery Ward ChargePlan Features More Credit Services

KINGSTON Montgomery Ward is introducing to its customers a new and simplified revolving charge program that offers additional credit services, continues the company's policy of full disclosure of credit terms and fully conforms to new Federal Truth-in-Lending legislation effective on July 1.

Montgomery Ward is mailing a special letter to more than nine million of its credit customers stating that "since honesty and integrity are continuing traditions at Wards, we enthusiastically welcome Truth-in-Lending legislation which requires everyone offering credit to make full terms disclosure according to specific guidelines set by the government."

The letter gives detailed information on monthly and annual credit terms and advises customers they can minimize their finance costs by paying higher than minimum monthly payments.

Max Shoff, Ward's store manager in Kingston states, "Ward's is modernizing its credit procedures and services not only to insure their compliance with new Truth-in-Lending legislation, but also to make credit buying more convenient and credit terms easier for our customers to understand."

Ward's new program combines its four major credit plans into two—Charge-all and Charge-Plus. Multiple contracts are eliminated with one agreement for each plan and covering all future purposes the customer may make.

"Since it has always been a company policy to disclose full credit terms to customers," Shoff said, "there will be little change in the actual selling process."

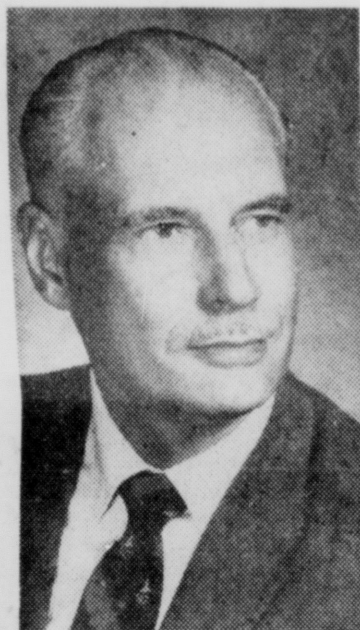

Charge-all, the company's all-purpose revolving credit plan, which accounts for 89 per cent of its credit sales, continues to cover all merchandise and services sold by Ward's. It offers the convenience of charge card shopping and may be used as a regular 30-day charge account or payments may be extended up to two years.

Charge-Plus is being introduced as a three-year time payment plan with the lowest monthly payment requirements ever offered by Ward's through a revolving charge service. It covers the purchase of major appliances, home furnishings, home improvements and other selected major purchases. Charge-Plus includes a $5 minimum monthly payment, a $100 minimum purchase to open and a $50 minimum for additional purchases.

Longer term installment payment plans will continue to be available for major purchases. All retail and catalogue customers are being notified of the new program.

Appointment Made at Rotron

DWIGHT E. HARRIS

WOODSTOCK Dwight E. Harris of Rotron Corporation has been appointed manager-project engineering, it has been announced by Clyde J. Deaveres, the firm's vice president-engineering.

Harris was formerly chief design engineer and now will be responsible for all phases of new product development, derivatives of existing products and special orders for prototypes.

Harris came to Rotron in 1961 from the Lux Clock Company of Waterbury, Conn., where he was chief engineer. A graduate of Worcester polytechnic Institute with a Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering, he is a member of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers and is a registered professional engineer in Connecticut. He and his wife, Catherine reside on Shortwell Road in Woodstock with their children, Donald, Susan and Mary.

Earns New Position With Walgreen's

Promotion of George Vafiades, R. Ph. by Walgreen Drug Stores to professional services representative for the firm's eastern district, which includes Kingston, has been announced. Walgreen has a store in the Kingston Shopping Plaza.

In his new position, Vafiades is responsible for maintaining Walgreen's standard of quality in the prescription pharmacies of his firm's 19 Eastern District drug stores. He counsels new pharmacists, assures compliance with local pharmacy regulations, and acts as liaison between Walgreens and other members of community health teams.

A 1961 graduate of the University of Buffalo's College of Pharmacy, Vafiades joined the Walgreen Company as a registered pharmacist in Long Island in 1965.

Most recently, he headed the pharmacy in one of his firm's drug stores in Syracuse.

Kingston is one of the key cities in which he will work.

Walgreen Sets Records In Sales, Earnings Gain

Walgreen Drug Stores continue to set new sales records with a new all time high in its third fiscal quarter ending June 30, it was noted in a recent report issued by C. R. Walgreen Jr., chairman of the Board, and A. A. Borg, president.

Walgreen's third quarter sales rose 7.9 per cent to $162,484,453 as against $150,529,373 in the comparable quarter last year. Earnings rose 14.6 per cent to $2,646,146 for the third quarter, compared to $2,309,249 for the third quarter a year ago. Earnings per share in this period were 42 cents compared to 36 cents for the comparable 1968 quarter.

For the nine months ended June 30 Walgreen sales were $504,165,391, up 8.2 per cent from $466,001,197 for the first nine months of fiscal 1968.

Nine months earnings were $8,799,128 or 5.9 per cent more than the $8,305,592 earnings of the corresponding nine months a year ago. Earnings per share in the first nine months of the current fiscal year were $1.39 compared to $1.31 in the same period of 1968.

In the third quarter, Walgreen's opened 14 new units. These comprised two large super centers, 10 Walgreen Drug Stores, and two Corkey's fast-food service units. The total number of stores at the end of the reporting period were 572.

DPMA OFFICERS — The Hudson Valley chapter of the Data Processing Management Association has elected new officers for 1969-70. James Scholtzshauer, an employee at Kingston IBM and city resident, was elected president. Serving as directors from Ulster County are Dwayne Durall, Kingston IBM employee and Saugerties resident and Jack Smith of Lake Katrine, also of the IBM. At a DPMA meeting held at The Kitchen in Hyde Park, Donald McGraw of East Fishkill received a plaque honoring his services as president during 1968-69. New officers (shown above l-r) are, Ralph Esposito, Newburgh, treasurer; Scholtzshauer, Miss Elsie Edholm of Poughkeepsie, secretary, and Robert Hale, of Wappingers Falls, vice president.

Grand Union Opening Slated for September

NEW PALTZ — James Kline, associated with DRH Enterprises in Poughkeepsie, also disclosed that the center will have 34,000 feet of space, of which Grand Union will use 24,000. The remaining 10,000 feet will be divided into three or four stores. According to Kline, the new Grand Union will be of colonial design and feature a mansard roof. The architect for the project is Milton Chazen, of Poughkeepsie.

Colonial Elects Officers

KINGSTON changed to its present form in 1964 because of expanding business in areas not familiar with its local name. In that year the company entered into the commercial package field, otherwise known as special multi-peril.

The company began to show tremendous growth after managed by Kenneth Pangburn, another insurance company.

Officers of the Colonial Cooperative Insurance Company were elected at a recent special meeting of the Board of Directors at which the office of assistant secretary-treasurer was created.

Elected were: Kenneth P. Pangburn, president; Frank Aldrich, vice president; Alfred D. Ronder, secretary-treasurer. Ross K. Osterhoudt, formerly president, was elected chairman of the Board by the executive committee. Mrs. Gay P. Trowbridge was appointed to the new office of assistant secretary-treasurer by Pangburn.

As president, Pangburn is responsible for the entire management of the company. His recent appointment of Mrs. Trowbridge as an officer carries the responsibility of her coordinating the two main departments of the company, losses and underwriting. She is the first woman officer since the company was organized in 1896 by a group of men in the Town of Olive.

Ronder is president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston and a principle of the accounting firm of Ronder and Ronder on Clinton Avenue. With a strong background in finance, he will assist the company in its investment operations.

Osterhoudt, a member of the company's board for more than 45 years and president since 1956, was elected chairman of the board recently. He is the former owner of the R. K. Osterhoudt Insurance Agency in Stone Ridge.

The Company's original name of The Olive Co-Operative Fire Insurance Association, was

$10,400.00 EXTRA CASH

WHENEVER YOU GO TO THE HOSPITAL

Only $1 covers your entire family for the first month—

then you may continue at World Mutual's regular low rates.

- ★ Pays you extra cash at the rate of $100.00 a week for as long as 104 weeks... for each hospital stay
- ★ Guaranteed renewable for life. At last—a hospital plan that guarantees never to cancel your protection no matter how old you get or how many claims you make

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT SAT., AUGUST 16, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

ONE out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have doubled in just a few short years. They are expected to double again in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept on going the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in the famous World Mutual Extra Cash Hospital Plan that...

Pays you $100.00-a-week tax-free cash whenever you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have an extra $100.00 cash coming in every week—beginning the very first day you enter the hospital.

Now, World Mutual's economy plan enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Because it will NOT cost you $20.00. It will NOT cost you $10.00—or even $5.00. Your special low price is just $1 for the first month's coverage for your entire family. Then continue at regular low World Mutual rates.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this World Mutual $100.00-A-WEEK Hospital Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other company! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctor bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not covered fully by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why World Mutual developed low-cost Extra Cash protection that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses.

You get your $100.00 per week—TAX FREE—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even for 104 weeks, if necessary. And, when you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, World Mutual pays out an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE CASH BENEFIT. You receive not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. Your spouse receives not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. That's $400.00 in all, in cash payments to you every week while you both remain in the hospital... even for as long as 2 whole years!

PAYS up to $10,400.00 CASH for each accident or illness, starting the very first day in the hospital.

PAYS up to $10,010.00 CASH if you're 65 or over—at the rate of $70.00 A WEEK for first 13 weeks, and a full $100.00 weekly while you remain in the hospital thereafter. (for 91 more weeks if necessary)... in addition to whatever benefits you receive from Medicare.

PAYS up to $41,600.00 CASH when both husband and wife are hospitalized at same time for accidental injury, for as long as both remain in the hospital—at the rate of $400.00 A WEEK.

PAYS up to $2,000.00 CASH for complete accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.

PAYS $100.00-A-WEEK CASH for each pregnancy requiring a hospital stay, when both husband and wife are insured for the entire pregnancy and have Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits.

PAYS up to $6,240.00 at the rate of $60.00 A WEEK when a child goes to the hospital for any accident or illness (when Coverage for Children has been added to the basic plan).

NO age limit—no medical examination required—no salesman will call.

65 OR OVER? YOU COLLECT UP TO $10,010.00 CASH IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE BENEFITS

We have designed this plan as the important addition to whatever is paid by Medicare—or health insurance you may have in any other companies. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. And you will be glad to know the checks will be big ones! In addition to what is paid by Medicare, World Mutual pays you $70.00 a week for first 13 weeks, and a full $100.00 weekly while hospitalized thereafter... for an additional 91 weeks if necessary! You can receive as much as $10,010.00 for each new illness or injury when hospitalized!

For older folks—greater protection than you ever would have thought possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to pay a big premium for it? Your "life saver" could be this wonderful World Mutual Extra Cash Plan—because World Mutual welcomes folks of all ages into its Plan. Even if you're 65 or over, even if you're OVER 100—when you go to the hospital you collect $70.00 a week for 13 weeks and a full $100.00 weekly while you remain in the hospital afterwards... even for as long as 91 additional weeks!

We can never cancel your policy!

You can count on World Mutual's wonderful protection no matter how old you get or how many times you collect from us. It is written into your policy that we cannot cancel your protection after you've made a lot of claims, or become old—or both. It is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE! (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family—this special World Mutual Plan (WNL 19-968)...

Pays you $100.00-a-week cash maternity benefits!

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that gives you cash to help buy all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured for the entire pregnancy and have added Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you get extra cash to use any way you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, 10 days—as long as necessary—you get $100.00 a week for every day of your confinement.

All these added cash benefits.

Added cash benefits: Up to $2,000.00 cash for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs any time within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check for $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 brings peace of mind during the period of adjustment. Added cash benefits: Choose Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits) and all your dependent, unmarried children from ages one month through 18 years will be covered, too! World Mutual pays up to $6,240.00, at the rate of $60.00 a week, when your youngster is hospitalized... for removal of tonsils, appendix or any other illness or injury. Yes, you will receive $60.00 a week cash, week after week while the child is in the hospital, even for as many as 104 weeks!

We pay your premiums when you are not able.

As a special consideration to you, if you—the person to whom the basic policy is issued—are hospitalized just 8 weeks or more, all premiums for you and all Covered Members that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by World Mutual. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 180 days, World Mutual will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHILE YOU ARE IN

THE HOSPITAL—for as long as 104 weeks—for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force—you collect a maximum of $10,400.00 for the confinement!

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your World Mutual Policy covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by: war or any act of war; any mental disease or disorder; where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; pregnancy, except as provided under the maternity benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy... during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this Policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the Policy has been in effect for 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered immediately!

Make your decision carefully.

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensable doctor, surgical and nursing services that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows whose turn it will be next.

Why you must act before the date shown on your Enrollment Form—just a few days from today.

Why do we give you so little time to act for your Policy—only a few days? Because this is a special Enrollment Period—and we must receive your Enrollment Form the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time. This highly efficient "Mass Enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone—and the savings are passed on to you!

We mail you the Policy as soon as we receive your Enrollment Form. When the Policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. Take all the time you need. It's a very short document, and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover there is NO FINE PRINT. Then—show it, if you wish, to someone you trust. Perhaps your lawyer, accountant, or doctor. Better still—show it to your own insurance man... even though he may very well be working for another company! If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere—at any price!

GRATEFUL POLICYOWNERS PRAISE WORLD MUTUAL PROTECTION

"Thank you very much for the check for $300.00 that I received today." H.E.P., Putnam, Connecticut

"The benefit check came within very few days. Your policy is easy to understand and there are no hidden clauses." E.A.H., Manchester, Tennessee

"This letter acknowledges receipt of your check in the sum of $250." A.G.A., Bangor, Pennsylvania

"Received check for hospitalization claim. Thank you so much for your speedy action. I certainly will recommend you to all of my friends." M.F.D., Gages Lake, Illinois

World Mutual rated "A+ Excellent."

Dunne's Insurance Report, the world's largest reporting service, gives World Mutual a rating of A+ EXCELLENT. There is no higher rating a company can attain.

Money-Back Guarantee—in case you change your mind.

Even after you mail your Enrollment Form below... even after you examine the Policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish... even after all this you are still free to return the Policy within 15 days and your dollar will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever.

Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind—you'll be protected by $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash benefits just as if you had already said "yes." That's right, you will be covered all this time for any accident or illness which puts you in the hospital, even if you finally decide to return the Policy.

However, after you've seen the Policy for yourself, you will surely agree that this is a tremendous value and you'll want to continue this $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash protection

HERE ARE YOUR LOW RATES.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse and any adult dependents. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue only one policy of this type per person. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-59	only $4.95
60-69	only $5.95
70-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

Only $2 more covers all your dependent, unmarried children...

from the ages of one month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add $1 more to that, and you're covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this World Mutual Plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

Act NOW—"Later" May Be TOO Late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Enrollment Form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

THESE 19 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell us how World Mutual's EXTRA CASH HOSPITAL PLAN gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will my Policy pay me when I go to the hospital? $100.00 per week—to the full maximum of $10,400.00 cash. (If you're over 65, you collect to a maximum of $10,010.00 cash benefits on top of any Medicare benefits you may receive.) You collect cash not just for yourself, but for all covered members of your family when they are hospitalized! And you collect cash even if you're in the hospital for only one day!

2. When do I collect $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents? We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if the loss occurs as long as 3 months after the accident.

3. What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again? You still collect your $100.00-a-week extra cash to the full maximum of $10,400.00. You need only to have resumed full normal activities for just 180 days—then if you are hospitalized for the same illness you begin to collect all over again.

4. If I receive more money than my total medical bills—do I keep the "extra cash"? You certainly do! We always pay you the full $100.00 a week—the full way to the maximum of $10,400.00 cash. And even if your bills add up to just part of that amount, you still keep every dollar of the extra cash—tax-free! That's why this Policy's called an extra cash plan. It's perfectly possible under this Plan for you to come out of the hospital with extra dollars you can use for bills, rent, or anything else. And if you already have some health or hospital insurance, it's even better! You can use it as we pay you anyway, on top of what they pay you! On top of Blue Cross, Major Medical, Workmen's Compensation, or whatever insurance policies you have with other companies!

5. Will you pay me $100.00-a-week cash—even for pregnancy? Yes! Many health plans don't cover pregnancy. But we do, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits are added to the basic plan. You collect $100.00-A-Week cash benefits for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a normal vital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this Plan for entire pregnancy period.)

6. Do you pay me cash even for my children, too? And... for my "future" children? You collect $60.00-a-week cash anytime your child goes to the hospital, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits are added to the basic plan. You collect $60.00 each time any dependent, unmarried child (ages 1 month through 18 years old) is in the hospital for sickness or injury. And if you have a growing family—as soon as your newborn child's one month old, he too is covered—automatically... at no additional cost to you.

7. Are there times I might collect as much as $20,800.00... as much as $41,600.00? There are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you, but for every covered member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once... or even both of you more than once... or if a child gets sick or has an accident—you could end up collecting $20,800.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. World Mutual gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are both in an accident and in the hospital at the same time... World Mutual pays you $400.00-a-week tax-free cash. This amount is paid for as long as both of you remain in the hospital. Even for as long as 104 weeks! You receive up to a maximum of $41,600.00—to pay for doctor and hospital bills and other expenses resulting from one accident alone! We hope illnesses and accidents don't strike your home—but should something happen, isn't it reassuring to know you're so well protected?

8. Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please? Yes! Spend the money any way you choose. Use it to pay your hospital, doctor, and nursing bills. Use it to pay for rent, food, clothing. Or put it in the bank to replace any savings spent during your hospitalization. All cash comes straight to you (not to doctor or hospital unless you request it) so you alone decide how it is to be spent!

9. Must I pay taxes on the money you send me? Certainly NOT! Every dollar we send you is 100% tax-free.

10. Am I ever allowed to stop paying premiums during a long stay in the hospital—yet still remain fully covered? Yes, you are! All premiums that come due after you—the person to whom the basic policy is issued—are in the hospital just 8 weeks or more... do not have to be paid by you! Yes, even if you are in for months, a year or longer. We pay all premiums for you, and for all covered members of your family, too, while you remain hospitalized. You aren't expected to pay us back either.

11. How can you give me so much—for so little? Because you buy your Policy directly from the company. You don't deal through middlemen. You eliminate costly processing charges and "red tape" that are included in the cost of most insurance. That's the reason why World Mutual can provide you with exceptional high-savings health insurance protection, including a full month's coverage for your family for only $1!

12. How do I go about submitting a claim? We invite you to contact CASH BENEFITS HEADQUARTERS directly. Whether you want to submit a claim or just ask a question, don't hesitate to contact us. As a World Mutual policyowner, you are entitled to prompt, courteous and direct attention at all times... and you will get it.

13. Because World Mutual costs less... do I get less protection? Absolutely not. You get more! $100.00-a-week cash payments for a maximum of 2 years for each hospital stay. And that goes for all covered members of your family. Yet all you pay to put this policy in force for one month is... $1. And if you want, continue this protection afterwards at the regular low World Mutual rate! That's why we urge you—for your own satisfaction—to compare these big cash benefits with any comparable policy issued by any other insurance company... anywhere. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue only one policy of this type per person.

14. Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my Policy cover? Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy covers everything except conditions caused by: (a) war or act of war; (b) any mental disease or disorder; (c) where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; (d) pregnancy except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and (e) any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.

15. Will you cancel my Policy if I make too many claims? Or because of age? No—positively not! Only you can cancel! The company cannot—no matter how many claims you have... how old you get or for any other reason whatsoever. A GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE clause has been written into your Policy. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the Policy may be ineffective.)

16. If I'm hospitalized less than a week—do you still pay in full? Yes! We pay you every day you're in the hospital. There's no "waiting period" before you start collecting.

17. What are the requirements to enroll in this Extra Cash Hospital Plan? You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and, to qualify during this Enrollment Period—you must enroll before midnight of the date shown in the Enrollment Form.

18. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages of joining World Mutual during the enrollment period? Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a lengthy, detailed application—just the brief Enrollment Form in the corner of this page. Also during this Enrollment Period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your Policy!

19. How do I enroll? Fill out the brief Enrollment Form and mail it with just $1 for the first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to: The World Mutual Health and Accident Ins. Co. of Penna., 1401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

Locke - Kennedy Nuptials

Fair Street Reformed Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Jane Elizabeth Locke of 124 Smith Avenue, Kingston, daughter of Mrs. Louise Lillian Locke of Tolland Avenue, Stafford, Conn. and Joseph Sanford Locke of RFD 3, Stafford Springs, Conn., to Robert Park Kennedy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Park Kennedy Sr. of Hillside Drive, Hurley, on Saturday, Aug. 2.

The Rev. Edwin C. Coon officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. William Ryance provided traditional wedding selections. Vases of white gladioli and shasta daisies decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an organza gown in the empire A-line silhouette, trimmed with three-dimensional Venice lace motifs on the bodice, sleeves and skirt. Tiny dots of Venice lace outlined the oval neckline and long pointed sleeves. A floral cap held her floor length tiered illusion veil, and she carried a traditional cascade of stephanotis, orchids, and ivy.

Mrs. George Lambinus of Warrensburg was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a sheath gown of aqua organza featuring a wateau train. The empire bodice was accented with white Bordonne lace and appliqued with tiny flowers. A petal cap of daisies served as her headpiece, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white marguerite daisies and baby's breath.

W. Albert Decker of Otis Street, this city, was best man. Ushers were Everett Johnson of Lake Katrine and Roy Wulff of Lucas Avenue Extension, Kingston.

MRS. ROBERT PARK KENNEDY JR. (Studio 54)

A reception took place at the church parlour.

For her wedding trip to Puerto Rico, the bride selected a lime linen A-line dress with white accessories.

The couple will reside at Bayside, L.I., after Oct. 1.

Marriage Vows Are Taken

Miss Louise Lefren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Edward Lefren of Yorklyn, Del., formerly of Kingston, became the bride of Michael Clark Steiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Norman Steiner of Minnetonka, Minn., on Saturday, Aug. 2. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. J. Babcock of Kingston.

The Rev. Edwin Lasbury performed the ceremony in the living room of the Lefren home. A reception took place afterward at the Greenville Country Club.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. J. Joseph Kelly III, formerly Miss Wendy Elizabeth Ingersoll of Horse-shoe Hill, Hockessin, Del.

The bride wore a summer gown and train of white silk organza, trimmed and bordered with Chantilly lace, and carried a cascade of stephanotis, baby's breath and fern. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was capped with fresh flowers matching her bouquet.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Erika Lefren who wore a long white textured silk dress and carried a multi-colored garden bouquet with baby's breath.

Best man for his brother was Jeremy Steiner of Minnetonka, Minn.

The bride and bridegroom received their Bachelor of Arts degrees in English from Carleton College in June. Mrs. Steiner is a member of Mortar Board, a national women's honor society. Her husband is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, is an All-American runner, recipient of a National Collegiate Athletic Association scholarship and was graduated from college magna cum laude. In September the bridegroom will start graduate work in the Department of American studies at University of Minnesota where he is a National Defense Education Act fellow.

The couple will reside at St. Paul, Minn., when they return from their wedding trip.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE

The posts supporting my clotheslines are steel and the bars at the ends of the posts are hollow.

I found that all sorts of things—from birds to wasps—were taking up residence in them.

I got rid of these undesirable clothesline-post dwellers by covering the ends of the hollow steel bars with aluminum foil.

The foil may be held with rubber bands, but I didn't find it necessary.

Jane Gorforth

Dear Heloise:

As one of the many women who have had a breast removed, I was looking for a more economical "appliance" as they are called surgically. Even the very expensive ones have to be replaced yearly.

I cut the cup from a bra on which the elastic had worn out, stuffed it with cut-up nylon hose and backed it with a piece of muslin.

This is very durable and launders beautifully.

It works fine for my size "C" cup, so I believe it would work for others too.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

I solved the problem of keeping the chain handle of my over-the-shoulder purse from always slipping off my shoulder.

I took a heavy hook from an old fur coat and attached it right under the collar at the shoulder seam. Then I hooked a chain link of the shoulder strap to the hook and that was the answer.

Mrs. T. B.

Dear Heloise:

I would like to add to the hint that appeared in your column about refilling cartridge pens.

We fill the empty cartridges from our old pens with cake coloring. In this way we have different colored ink to go with different colors of stationary.

It's very inexpensive and makes for a little variety. And that's the spice of life, isn't it, Heloise?

Teenager

'Deed it is, I can see that doldrums aren't in your forecast for the future.

You're a lamb for writing. Love hearing from my teenage readers.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

We've turned the frowns to grins at our house!

I cut a bear out of an old brown shopping bag and put a cord on it, thus making a necklace.

Now, the first person at our house to get grumpy has to wear the bear around his neck.

You'd be surprised how a little bit of humor at the right time can ease (and even change) the entire mood of a child, and I might add that Mother is not excluded.

The children think it's the greatest, and especially in those instances when Mom has to wear the bear necklace.

Mrs. J. B. C.

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your ques-

Adventure Recipe Given

Sports in the fresh air are guaranteed to develop a hearty appetite. Although the facilities for storage and preparation may be limited, satisfying delicious food can be prepared with conveniently packaged products for enjoyment near the sports area or for a get-together at home afterwards.

After a round of golf, why not relax and snack with Sesame bread wafers and cheese spread topped with slices of hard-cooked egg and pieces of chicken spread-tongue molded in madrilene.

Madrilene

- 1 (3½ oz.) package sliced beef tongue
- 1 (4½ oz.) can chicken spread
- 1 (12½ oz.) can consommé madrilene
- 2 tbs. lemon juice
- Water
- 1 envelope un-flavored gelatin
- 1 hard-cooked egg, sliced
- 1 tbs. finely chopped dill pickles
- Snack Mat Pasteurized Processed Cheese Spread

American or Cheddar Meal Mates Sesame Bread Wafers

Spread tongue slices with chicken spread; fold in half; refrigerate. Combine next two ingredients, add water to make a total of 2½ cups. Measure about 1 cup into saucepan. Sprinkle in gelatin; stir over low heat until gelatin has completely dissolved. Mix with remainder of liquid. Cool; pour ¾ cup into 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Chill until set but not firm. Cover with egg slices and enough gelatin to hold them in position. Chill. When madrilene is firm, cut tongue in ½-inch squares and arrange evenly on top. Add pickles to remaining gelatin and chill just until mixture begins to thicken. Pour over tongue. Chill 4 to 5 hours or overnight. Unmold onto a flat serving dish; garnish with Sesame bread wafers and additional cheese spread. Makes 8 (4 to 5 tablespoons) servings.

Tasty Blueberry Butter

BLUEBERRIES—What a way to spread sunshine during the winter ahead! Make some blueberry butter to spread on good bread, and do it now while the markets are filled with boxes of the fresh beautiful blues and the price is so right.

Some Sunday morning next winter when the family comes home from church with their appetites crisp as the air about them there will be a taste of summer waiting.

Right there on the table with the loaf of, preferably, homemade bread will be a jar or two of homemade Blueberry Butter.

How wonderful that you thought of it now. Now, when the produce departments are brimming with boxes of bright beautiful blueberries at peak-of-season prices. You are not only clever, but well organized, to run off some morning this week and buy the berries by the crate of a dozen boxes. This butter is particularly interesting. It uses the natural pectin in apples to give it its own thickening. The apple flavor is gentle, and does not mask out the taste of blueberries that people seem to long for so lovingly when the short fresh season is past. Just a little bit of three different old-fashioned spices brings a "smell of childhood" quality that is irresistible.

The whole operation is so simple that it can be begun and completed while the children are taking a dip in the backyard pool. Butter them up when they come in with a quick taste of this Blueberry Butter. But put your foot and the lids down when the kids act like the spreading and eating was going to go on forever. Otherwise you'll have to go out and buy another crate

Blueberry Butter

- 8 cups fresh blueberries
- 8 large green cooking apples, peeled, cored and sliced
- 8 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon ground allspice
- 1 teaspoon ground mace
- 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine all ingredients in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer for 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Cook until mixture is thick. Spoon hot mixture into sterilized glasses. Seal and cool. Store jars in a cool dry place. Yield: about 8 pints.

How to Can Fresh Blueberries Wash blueberries and drain thoroughly. Place in glass jars within ½" of top, shaking berries down while filling jars. Cover with boiling sugar syrup, leaving ½" headspace. (For thin sugar syrup, boil 2 cups sugar and 4 cups water together for 5 minutes to obtain 5 cups of syrup.) Adjust lids and process in boiling water bath (212°F.). Pint jars take 10 minutes; quart jars 15 minutes. Remove jars from canner and complete seals if jars are not self-sealing type.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Watermelon is nature's own drink. From now on during August, abundant supplies of plump juicy watermelons will be arriving in Eastern markets to lend color and flavor to fruit cups, salads, and between meal snacks, says Louise K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist.

Watermelon rates high among weight-watchers. A 4" x 8" wedge contains about 115 calories. A slice ¾" thick by 10" around provides about 45 calories.

Watermelon varieties differ in size, shape and color. Melons should be firm, symmetrical in shape, fresh and attractive in appearance and of good characteristic color for the variety. A mature good melon is likely to have a bloom over the surface of the rind giving it a somewhat velvety appearance.

The side of the melon that rested on the ground should have a yellowish color. Such melons are generally crisp, juicy and sweet; however, the sweetness and texture varies with different varieties.

The "thump test" for ripeness is too vague to be of use except to an expert because over-mature watermelons have the same sound as good ones.

For immature melons, the underside usually is white or pale green. If melons are soft to the touch, show shriveling, sunken spots and any degree of decay at either end, they should be rejected.

Watermelons do not keep well and should not be stored for any long period. For short storage, the recommended temperature range is 36° to 40°F. with relative humidity of 86 to 90 per cent. Watermelons cannot be expected to keep more than two to three weeks even under ideal conditions.

Once cut, watermelons should be refrigerated and eaten as soon as possible. To prevent the flesh from drying out, cover with wax paper or cellophane. They taste best when served thoroughly chilled.

Nectarines come in brilliant red, golden color, or mottled crimson and gold. They're sometimes confused with peaches because of similarities of size, shape and color. In fact, nectarines can be used in recipes calling for peaches.

The delicate nectarine skin is susceptible to damage. So, take care to choose plump, firm, well colored fruit. When fully mature, nectarines change from green to a creamy or pale yellow under the attractive reddish blush. Once ripe and ready to eat, they are best stored covered in the refrigerator. Nectarines are a valuable source of vitamin A and C. Like most fresh fruits, they are also low in calories.

Fresh limes are on the plentiful USDA food list for July. The tart juice from limes is excellent for cool summer drinks, pies, sherbets, fruit cups and for sauces on fish and meat.

Domestic limes that come to market now should be bright green and heavy for size. Yellow fruit lacks the tart, acid flavor. The Mexican Key Lime is light yellow when ripe, an exception to the "buy when green" rule. Avoid limes with dull, dry skin and those showing evidence of decay.

Bibb lettuce is on the market now. Freshness is one keynote of good quality—buy only the amounts you will use promptly. Bibb lettuce comes in small loose heads with deep green outer leaves and creamy white centers.

Tender and delicate, Bibb lettuce is easily bruised when crushed — wash well, drain carefully and refrigerate in a crisper pan in a plastic bag.

Because the flavor of Bibb lettuce is so delicate, some lettuce enthusiasts prefer only a small amount of dressing to compliment the natural taste.

Grape Growers Are Forced to Give in to Nature

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California winegrapes as it table wine grapes thrive in an unfriendly climate. Machines have taken over much of man's work in machine yet invented can make vineyards is shrinking because of urban sprawl in northern California, the heart of such vineyards for more than a century. One winery president said land is so much in demand there for subdivisions that some vineyard property brings $10,000 to $25,000 an acre.

Prior to that date, they had sold the wine in bulk, unaged and unfinished, to other wineries for blending.

So, while they use machines to press grapes, control temperatures of aging vats, and filter and bottle wines, California's winegrowers have had to seek other means to deal with the weather. Since they cannot change the weather, they're changing the grapes—developing new varieties for dry wines that will grow in a hot climate such as that of the San Joaquin Valley until recently hospitable only to dessert, or sweet wine, grapes.

Before the chamber of commerce sues me for maligning the state's famous climate, let me explain: The first wine grapes planted in California were for sweet sacramental wines. Father Junipero Serra, a Franciscan monk, is credited with planting the first such vines in the summer of 1769 at Mission San Diego. He and other Franciscans planted more vines at 20 other missions they trek through what now is the State of California. These vines thrived, just as others for commercial wines have in intervening years.

Until prohibition, sweet wines were more popular with United States consumers than dry ones. But since repeal, table wine sales have doubled. Industry sources say they now account for 40 per cent of the market for California wines, and that table wine sales have increased 55 per cent in the past five years alone.

Democratic Coalition Supportees Say Kennedy Will Weather Storm

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The foot soldiers and captains of the New Politics who fought the 1968 campaigns under the McCarthy and Kennedy banners are taking their leaders' troubles with a shrug. "If McCarthy isn't there and Ted Kennedy goes down the drain," said one, "there will be someone else when the time comes. We are issue-oriented. We aren't hero-oriented." This appeared to be the view of many of the more than 40 members of the New Democratic Coalition—most of whom were ardent supporters of McCarthy and the late Robert F. Kennedy—who gathered at a Western States weekend meeting to discuss racism, the ABM and politics. Many arrived in cars still bearing the McCarthy daisy decal and the Kennedy bumper sticker, as well as the more recent liberal battle cry: "The ABM is an Edsel." Some of those arriving early Friday crowded into a motel room to listen in silence, rarely moving, as Sen. Edward M. Kennedy told of the events around the drowning of a pretty secretary. About halfway through, a young man with a neat beard who rang doorbells for McCarthy last year but said he would have voted for Ted Kennedy in 1972, shook his head and walked out. "I think he's had it," he said afterward. "It may be unfair, but I think that's the way it is."

His was not a consensus however of those who lounged around the swimming pool or took a dip between panel sessions and get-togethers with old friends from 1968. Curtis Gans, McCarthy's tough young organizer from 1968, was there in shirt sleeves, drinking can after can of pop and talking about reform and how McCarthy would have defeated Richard Nixon in 1968 if he had been nominated. Now McCarthy has reaffirmed his decision not to seek re-election as senator from Minnesota. "I would be very unhappy if Sen. McCarthy retired from public life," Gans said.

Gans doesn't think Kennedy's future as a presidential possibility has been destroyed: "I think people should be judged on their public record, not on their private lives. . . . Anyway, in politics it depends on the time." Thomas Bradley, the tall black city councilman from Los Angeles who was defeated for mayor, said he agreed. Ted Kennedy, he said, is "one of the finest candidates the Democratic party has to offer" and he was sure Kennedy would be a presidential candidate sometime. Maybe even in 1972.

Ted Warshafsky, who was co-chairman of the McCarthy primary campaign in Wisconsin and a leader of that state's rebellious delegation at the Democratic Convention, said Kennedy's television statement had an impact at his home. "My wife said, 'My God, that was a beautiful speech! My daughter was near tears. . . . I think Kennedy's private life is his own. But the thing they will throw against him, fair or not fair, is that he cracked under pressure. They are going to take those words of his, perhaps unfairly, and throw them back at him. Remember the posters about Nixon—'Do you want this man's finger on the trigger.' Well, they're going to use those words against Kennedy just like that."

Rose Did It All Against Phillies

By United Press International

It wasn't enough for Pete Rose to bang out three hits, including his 11th homer of the season, and drive in four runs against the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday.

The hustling Cincinnati Reds' right fielder had to make a diving catch with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning to end a slugfest in which the two National League teams combined for 36 runs and 46 hits as the Reds managed a 19-7 victory and moved into first place in the Western Division.

"If that ball gets by its a tie ballgame," said Phillies manager Gene Stone's line drive into right-center field that Rose grabbed for the final out. The Phillies had runners on first and second when Stone connected off Wayne Granger.

"We needed a play like that to wrap up a terrific game like this one," commented Red pilot Dave Bristol. "It was a g a t game for the fans and the players but a r t tough one for the managers."

In other National League action San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 3-2, New York defeated Atlanta 6-5, Chicago downed San Diego 4-3 and Houston split with Montreal, winning the first game 7-3 before dropping the nightcap 1-0.

Although Rose played a major role in the Reds' victory, he had plenty of help from his hard-hitting teammates. Johnny Bench led a 25-hit attack with two doubles and three singles while Alex Johnson and Tony Perez each had four hits. Johnson and Lee May knocked in four runs apiece.

The Phillies were no slouches at the plate themselves. Deron Johnson sprayed five hits, Johnny Callison had four and Tony Taylor knocked in five runs with the help of his first major league grand slam.

The Reds, who now hold a 904 percentage lead over San Francisco and are six percentage points ahead of third place Atlanta, trailed 9-4 after four innings but erupted for 10 runs in the fifth. The Phillies came back with seven runs in the sixth but were held scoreless over the last two innings by Granger.

The Giants benefited from a mental error by first baseman Al Oliver to score two runs in the fourth inning and beat Pittsburgh behind Gaylord Perry (Atlanta from the top spot in the league homer. The Cubs held one out, Hal Lanier grounded to lead on a homer by Bob Mets in the Eastern Division second baseman Gene Alley Tillman and a four-run fifth, Patek, Patek's relay to first five runs in the bottom of the Cardinals six game winning streak with a four-hitter and Bill Sudakis drove in three runs in the eighth rallied the to keep the Dodgers in the thick second run crossed the plate. Chicago Cubs to victory over the winner leading off the 11th their eighth straight. Stop McNally at 17

(By United Press International)

Dave McNally learned Sunday it's not how you pitch but who you pitch to that can make the difference.

"I've pitched worse games this year and won," McNally said after his two-year 17-game winning streak was snapped when the Minnesota Twins beat the Baltimore Orioles 5-2.

But the difference was that McNally had never pitched to Rich Reese before in his career.

McNally, who's escaped defeat several times this year because the Orioles have backed him with heavy hitting support, was nursing a 1-0 lead in the seventh when Reese was sent up as a pinch-hitter with the bases loaded and two out.

Reese hit a 3-2 pitch to the opposite field in left for the first grand slam homer of his career to end McNally's string.

"The streak had to end sometime," McNally said. "I didn't want to throw that pitch — but I was in the position where I had to throw a strike."

Earl Weaver, the Baltimore manager who was tossed out of the game in the first inning, said, "how far was that ball out of the park? About five feet. Then, he was five feet from a 2-1 victory, wasn't he?"

Reese said, "I knew I was going to bat because we were out of righthanded pinch-hitters and I've usually hit lefties pretty well. After I got around first, I didn't see anybody and I was afraid I'd run past somebody on the basepaths. I forgot that with a 3-2 count and the bases loaded, they would be running."

A victory would have enabled McNally to set an American League two-year mark of 18 straight and to tie the one-season loop record of 16 straight. Instead, he's now 15-1 for the year.

In other American League games, Detroit beat Chicago 6-2, Kansas City edged Cleveland 3-2, New York topped Seattle 5-3, California nipped Washington 3-2 in 11 innings and Oakland beat Boston 10-7 but lost the second game, 3-2.

McNally had a four-hitter for 6-2 3 innings when Leo Cardenas and Frank Quilici singled and Rick Renick walked to load the bases. Reese then batted for winning pitcher Jim Kaat and unloaded his slam.

Willie Horton's grand slam in the ninth inning snapped a 2-2 tie and carried the Tigers past Chicago. Reliever Dan Osinski gave up a single to Mickey Stanley opening the ninth. A force out, an error by Bobby Knoop and a walk to Norm Cash set the stage for Horton's homer.

Joe Foy's two-run homer with one out in the sixth broke up Luis Tiant's no-hit bid and led Kansas City past Cleveland. Tiant had a no-hitter for 5-1-3 innings before he gave up Foy's homer. Wally Bunker pitched a four-hitter for the victory.

Billy Cowan's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning gave California the triumph over Washington. Bubba Morton opened the 11th with a triple and reliever Casey Cox intentionally walked the next two batters before Cowan decided it was his first hit in an Angel uniform.

Bill Robinson and Gene Michael each drove in two runs during a five-run first inning as New York beat Seattle. Former Yankee Steve Barber was bombed out and took the loss while Stan Bahnsen got the victory with a 7-1-3 inning stint.

Rico Petrocelli hit his 28th homer and Boston survived a two-run Oakland rally in the ninth to gain a split with the A's. The A's won the first game on Danny Cater's grand slam and Ramon Webster's bases-loaded single. Reggie Jackson, who hit his 41st homer on Saturday, didn't get much of a chance to hit No. 42. He was walked seven times in the two games.

Larry Bearnarth gained his seventh victory in 11 decisions for the Tides. Duffy Dyer homered for the winners and Fred Valentine homered with Ferraro for the losers.

Mike Ferraro, all-star third baseman for the Rochester Red Wings of the International League, continues to hit at a 300 pace, taking his place as one of the leading batters on the club.

Mike's average had dipped below .300 Saturday, when he was hitting .298, but he blasted his third homer of the season and a single to go two-for-five in Rochester's 11-6 loss to the Tidewater Tides Sunday.

The Kingston lad's statistics now read 94 hits in 313 at bats for an even .300 average. He has 14 doubles, five triples and three circuit shots with 36 RBIs.

In other action Sunday, Mike Jackson hurled a shutout as the Louisville Colonels downed the Richmond Braves 5-0. Syracuse split a doubleheader with Buffalo, dropping the

Golf Business to Beard; Like 'Fifty Grand' Birdies

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—this year's business is booming to the tune of $155,187.79—plus a few extras that don't count in the official prize money list.

Thomas Deals Two

BATAVIA

"We know it was bound to happen," said Bob Distal, manager of the Batavia Trojans in reference to the fact that Sunday night Ron Thomas gave up two runs registering a save as the Trojans dumped Newark 11-7, in a New York-Penn League game.

While this may seem like far-from-disturbing news it does signify a new chapter in the baseball story of this young Kingston hurler, it might even be called the end of an era as these two runs represented the first two scored off Thomas in his brief but highly successful career as a professional pitcher.

Until last night Ron's earned run average was 0.00, it is now 0.80, best in the league, and needless to say, best on the Batavia club. Thomas has now appeared in 18 games for the Trojans. He is still undefeated at 3-0 with seven saves.

"Ron has just been tremendous," said Distal. "He has become a great favorite with the fans, both at home and on the road. He has all the pitches and moves that a hurler needs if he is going to make the big time. His fastball and curve are of major league caliber and his control, well, the record speaks for itself. I have every confidence that Ron is going to have a bright future in major league baseball," he concluded.

Ron's record seems even more impressive when one realizes that he has compiled it all in relief, with no starts. He usually comes in when the starter has gotten in trouble and most of the time with men on base.

The former Wagner College star, who led the Kingston Braves to the Mid-Hudson Rookie League championship last year, appears to have earned his name as the "Ace Fireman" in the New York-Penn League.

Red Wing Coach Seriously Hurt

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Player-coach Chico Fernandez, of the Rochester Red Wings' International League baseball team, was reported in serious condition today in a Rochester hospital after being hit by a pitched ball in Sunday's game against the Tidewater Tides.

Fernandez, who underwent brain surgery this morning, was reported to have suffered a skull fracture and brain damage.

ard and a few extras that don't count in the official prize money list.

Now the leading dollar collector of the season, Beard did $50,000 worth of business on Sunday alone by popping in a birdie putt on the 72nd hole of the Westchester Classic for a five under par 267 and one shot victory over 25-year-old Bert

Greene, who started the day with a four shot lead.

"It's the only time I led," said Beard. "But it was the right time, wasn't it?"

Beard, winner of the Minnesota Classic three weeks ago, wound up with 275-13 under par for the distance in the $250,000 tournament that ranks as the richest in the world.

Greene, son of a veteran George club pro, faded to a par 72 after three straight rounds in the 60's and wound up second at 276, but his $28,500 prize was nearly as much as he had won previously in three years on the tour.

Dan Sikes, who blew a three-foot putt on the last hole, was third with a 69 for 277 and $17,750 and South Africa's Harold Henning looped in a long putt at the finish for a 70 and $11,750 in fourth place.

For Beard, neither winning nor losing is a surprise.

"Golf is a business with me," he said. "I try to get my birdies and my pars because they mean money to me. If I'm going to win a tournament, it'll come my way. If I don't, there's always another week and another week and another chance to get my pars and birdies."

His biggest birdie in the Westchester was a thoroughly planned four on the 538-yard par five 18th hole.

"I intentionally played short of the bunkers around the green," he said. "Then I pulled out a wedge and figured if I could put it 10 or 12 feet away, I had a shot at a birdie. It stopped two feet from the hole. Maybe less. That did it."

Greene, scrambling but still retaining the same poise he showed while leading at the end of rounds two and three, tried valiantly to match Beard's birdie. He tried to win an almost impossible No. 4 wood shot to the green but it caught a trap at the right front—the bunker Beard deliberately avoided. Coming out 20 feet from the pin, Bert missed the putt and Beard had his second victory of the year.

"You don't hear much about par holes during a good round," said Beard, "but two pars I got along the way kept me going. I had a ten footer at the fifth. I parred the 15th. Those were as important as any birdie."

Tommy Aaron, winner of last week's Canadian Open had a 70 for 279 and a fifth place tie with Lee Trevino, in with a final round 71.

Australia's Bruce Crampton followed with a 71 for 280.

Well back were Jack Nicklaus at 283 and Arnold Palmer at 289. Arnie won $476.19 in a five way tie for last place.

"We could run only four or five plays because we couldn't ask Willie to block," Shula said. The Colts only gained 70 yards on the ground.

Shula praised the Chargers as a "heck of a football team," especially on a 68-yard drive which killed seven minutes. He added, however, that San Diego has held regular scrimmages with the Los Angeles Rams and the New Orleans Saints while the Colts have had little contact because of poor weather.

Charger Coach Sid Gillman was not as easily pacified.

"We made a lot of errors," he said. "No one impressed me. The offense was terrible."

Rookie Bob Babich, who played for the College All-Stars against the world champion New York Jets Friday night and the runners-up Colts Saturday was asked who was better. "The runners-up," he said.

Keith Lincoln gained 45 yards in seven carries for one Charger bright spot. Dennis Parté kicked two second quarter field goals for San Diego's only points.

The Chargers. He hit eight of 14 passes for 124 yards including a 4 yard scoring toss to Preston Pearson.

Normal flanker Willie Richardson played tight end because of John Mackey's leg injury and Tom Mitchell's flu. He caught seven passes for 116 yards but the Colts ground game missed Mackey's blocking.

"Unitas is the all-time great quarterback," his Charger counterpart, John Hadl said. "He was accurate but he really wasn't letting go. The best thing he does is run the ball club."

"Hadl was right," Unitas said. "I didn't let out. I could have thrown harder but I didn't have to."

Coach Don Shula felt Unitas was throwing hard though. The all-time pro football passing leader is the key to Shula's plans for Baltimore to defend its National Football League crown.

"I wasn't going to play John," Shula said, "but he was throwing all week in camp and wanted to play. I may use him more next week against Oakland."

Not to be overlooked was Earl Morrall, who replaced the injured Unitas last year and became the league's most valuable player. Morrall was the quarterback of record for 14 of the Colts' points against

Hudson Blanks Athens, 2-0, in Legion Finals

KINGSTON Pitching was the order of the day in the District Three American Legion Baseball Tournament played this weekend at Dietz Stadium as Hudson, representing Columbia County, tripped Kingston's entry in the second game, 2-1, and shut out Athens of Greene County, 2-0, to win the title on Sunday.

Pitchers registered three shutouts in the four game series, allowing just seven runs for the entire tourney. Sixty-six batters bit the dust via the strikeout route as the Legion hurlers displayed fine control and a near professional mastery over opposing batters. There were just 19 hits over the four games.

The tournament, the first in eight years that Kingston has been able to host, was originally scheduled to start Friday night, but had to be postponed until Saturday because of the rain.

Tom Lewicki authored the shutout in the final game for Hudson, allowing Athens just two hits for seven innings. Losing hurler Don Meier allowed three hits as Hudson scored an earned run in the first stanza on singles by Bob Jablonski and Dean Dousenberry. The winners tallied one more in the fourth as Lewicki scored on an error.

Beats Kingston

Hudson got into the finals by defeating Kingston, 2-1, in eight innings, in a real pitcher's duel. Paul Koskowski got the win, striking out 12 and allowing three hits. Losing hurler George Geanuleas matched Koskowski pitch for pitch, setting down 12 batters and giving up three hits. The winners got two runs in the eighth inning as Jablonski reached first on an error and came all the way around on a single by Butch Mahar. Mahar scored an unearned run to ice the tilt.

Kingston came back with one in the bottom of the extra stanza as Paul Watzka singled and scored on a single by Gary Schatzel.

In the first game Saturday, Green Island nipped Melvin Rhoades 1-0, coming up with the winning marker in the bottom of the seventh. Bob Anglum scored the winning run on a single by Bill Corney as the winners managed just three hits.

Dick Darling was the winning hurler, allowing two hits and striking out six. Bob MacArvey took the loss, matching Darling in strikeouts, but allowing one more hit.

17 Strikeouts

In the semi-final game, Green Island pitcher Garth Tymeson put on a tremendous show, striking out 17 Athens batters, allowing one hit and one run in the top of the eighth. The only thing he didn't do was win the tilt as Athens won by that lone marker.

Tymeson struck out the side three times during the game.

but the winners, came up with the unearned run to enter the finals against Hudson.

John Wilhelm, the winning pitcher, struck out eight, walked two and gave up just two hits as he hung on against the Green Island ace.

Tournament co-chairman Jules Albertini was quite satisfied with the way things went. "I would have been a lot happier if Kingston could have won the tourney," he said. "But Hudson is a good team and they played well, they deserved the win."

"All the pitchers were very sharp. I can't remember seeing such pitching in an event like this. All the teams conducted themselves very well on and off the field," he concluded.

Laverne Hanover, Mazel Rodney Winners

MONTICELLO Laverne Hanover, last year's two-year-old pacing champion, and Mazel Rodney, captured the featured races in the Saturday afternoon night doubleheader at Monticello Raceway.

Laverne Hanover, a colt by Tar Heel-Lavish Hanover by Adios, recovered some of his lost glory when he won the George M. Levy Pace in a time equal to the third ranking pacing record for horses of his age over a half-mile track 2:03.

The top ranking time, which is also the all-age record is 1:57 flat achieved by Bret Hanover, Frank Ervin at the reins, at Delaware, Ohio in 1965.

Laverne cut the entire mile and established fractions of :29.2, 1:01, 1:31 and the terminating 2:00.3. He was closely pressed from the half onwards by Tompered Yankee, son of Tar Heel-Sue Adios by Adios, driven by Vernand Dancer, who placed by a length and a half.

The victory was the 10th in 13 starts and a show for Laverne Hanover in 1969 and the winners share of $18,267.75 boosted his current prize money to over $117,594. He earned $180,864 as a two-year old.

Mazel Rodney's new mentor, Howard McCullough was in the sulky, as Mazel Rodney, as he took the feature event at night in 2:05.2. He lived up to his reputation as a fast closer when he began a half mile brush that terminated in his half-length victory.

Mazel Rodney has had 22 starts this year with six firsts, three seconds and two shows, to $19,829 as opposed to $4,797 garnered last year.

Pride Sets Record

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UPI) — Nevele Pride won the biggest purse of his career at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night as he became the third trotter ever to sweep the Founder's Plate in the $88,670 Realization Trot before 37,000 onlookers.

Nevele Pride picked up the $44,335 first prize in the eighth Realization and the $50,000 bonus that goes to the winner of the Founder's Plate. Moreover, his clocking for the mile and a sixteenth of 2:07.3 set a world record for the distance. This erased Perfect Freight's 2:08.3 created in 1966.

Nevele Acres and Louis Resnick of Ellenville picked up $35,000 of the bonus in addition to the winner's share of the earned $10,000 as the driver-trainer and Mrs. Edward Quinn of Blue Bell, Pa., collected $5,000 as the breeder-nominator.

Scoring his 53rd victory in 63 lifetime starts, Nevele Pride made it look easy after his chief rival and four-time conqueror, Snow Speed, broke stride heading for home the final time. The 1967 68 Horse of the Year finished five lengths ahead of Master Yankee, longest shot on the board. Nevele Pride's stablemate, Fine Shot, was third, another two lengths back of Master Yankee.

There was no show wagering and Nevele Pride returned $2.40 and $2.20 while Master Yankee paid $4.80 to place.

Previous winners of the Founder's Plate award, which goes to trotters sweeping the Westbury Futurity and Dexter Cup in addition to the Realization, were Speedy Scot and Dartmouth.

Sneak preview of next year's Volkswagen sedan.

If you just bought this year's VW sedan, congratulations. Next year nobody will know you're not driving next year's VW sedan. Because next year's beetle will look like this year's beetle. (What else?) Which means it will be just as hard to tell a 20-year-old VW from a brand new VW. Buying a car that doesn't go out of style has still another benefit: You don't take a beating when you sell it.

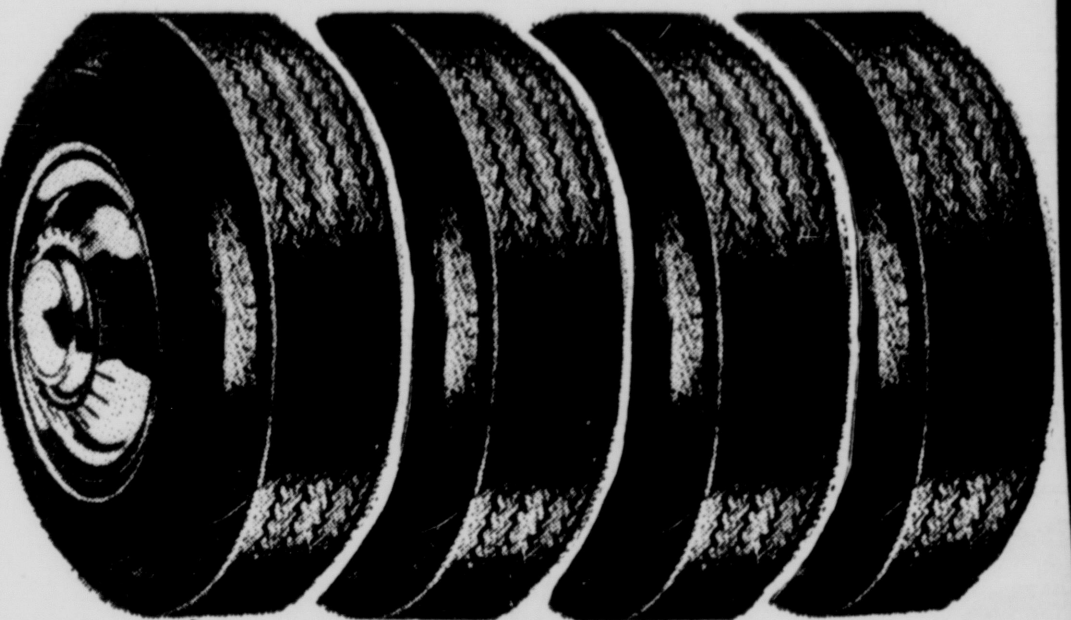

A VW depreciates very slowly. But even though next year's Volkswagen won't be different, it will be different. We've made some nice improvements. As usual. (Over 2200 since 1949.) So in next year's VW you can look forward to a new — and a bigger — and a different — Well, you wouldn't want us to give away all our little secrets, would you? What kind of sneaky preview would that be?

Dear Abby

Who Pays for Dates?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "who should pay on dates?" You said that if the gentleman invites the lady, HE should pay. This sounds ducky on the face of it, but what other choice has he? She sure as heck is not about to ask HIM out! She has a good thing going. He's trapped and she knows it.

Now, hear me out. This caste system might have had some validity years ago, but things are different now, and I see no reason why a man should have to shoulder the whole cost when the broad he's out with is earning as much—if not more—than he is.

DEAR HAD IT: No man has to submit to any form of blackmail. He has the right to ask the lady to pick up the tab for herself, or for both of them. She may even do it, but it is also her right to refuse.

DEAR ABBY: I think I can help that girl who said they policemen "turn her on," and she wanted to know how to meet one. Policemen "turn me on," too, and I can give her some tips from my own experience.

1. Get a job as a waitress. Policemen always stop in diners for coffee or a quick bite. This is a perfect place to start a conversation with a policeman, and if he is interested in you, you'll end up dating him.

2. Get a ticket for over-parking or letting the meter run out, not for speeding. A speeding ticket is expensive, counts against your driving record, and besides, you have to go before the judge and you don't end up meeting the cops anyway. A ticket for over-parking is only $1.00, and you get to go down to the police station to pay it. Here is where you will meet a lot of cops.

3. Ride around. When a police car passes you, be sure to look intently at the cops in it. If they smile, smile back. Chances are they will find something to say to you. I do all the time and I've never been disappointed.

"LIKES COPS" IN WAYNE, N.J.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder if those people who are all for birth control and abortion have ever stopped to consider that every year thousands of childless couples have been able to adopt babies only because they were illegitimate. Unwed mothers actually serve a very useful purpose in society, don't they?

AGAINST BIRTH CONTROL AND ABORTION

DEAR AGAINST: It's true that because of illegitimacy, many couples have been able to become parents thru adoption. But to say that "the unwed mother serves a useful purpose in society" is like comparing illegitimacy to a heart transplant. It's wonderful for the recipient, but serves no useful purpose for the donor.

Horoscope By SIDNEY OMARR

(The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.)

Forecast for Tuesday August 5, 1969

HOUSEHOLD HINT: Wonderful time for redecorating, moving into new abode. Important point is to BEAUTIFY SURROUNDINGS. Emphasis continues on TAURUS—and these persons make news today.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You could obtain real bargain in purchase of luxury item. Generally, you get what you want. Social life may be somewhat hectic. Don't get involved with one who is too serious.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Many ask your opinion about purchases, moving, trusting certain persons. Be frank. Truth today makes you strong. Be independent, original and forthright.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): What people say and what they do could be the opposite. Know this; be self-reliant. Some behind the scenes may be in gossip mood. Protect yourself in the clinches.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accent continues on hopes, friends. Some desires are subject to revision. Key is a more mature attitude. Compromise with family member. Provide face-saving device.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Demands are made on your time. You will be anything but lonely. But illusion of romance may be just that—not too solid. Excellent for theater party, dining out. But be realistic.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Good lunar aspect today coincides with writing, advertising, correspondence. Fine for submitting manuscripts, creating formats. Look to future. Stop brooding over past.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Study Household Hint. Your natural sense of beauty, design comes to fore. Flowers are important to you, especially today. Co-operate with LEO individual—intense relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Nothing halfway today; all the way or nothing. Best to be a shrewd observer. Don't start something you can't finish—applies especially to opposite sex.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Key is to be receptive. Accent moderation. Remember health rules, resolutions. Avoid stimulants which interfere with sleep. Keep on even course.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Activity is indicated in conjunction with children. You can successfully entertain. Personal magnetism makes you popular. Come out of any emotional shell. Express feelings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Emphasis on property, home, real estate. Practical affairs dominate. Check details. Read between the lines; study fine print. Be specific—and careful.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Avoid jumping to conclusions. Obtain hint from AQUARIUS message. Forces tend to be scattered. Don't write letter in anger. Important to make neighborly relative happy.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you can write, dramatize and advertise your own unique talents. But, in many ways, you are shy. You have knack for gaining publicity, but self-recognition is the most important goal. In August you begin project destined to succeed.

(To find out who's lucky for you in money and love, order Sidney Omarr's booklet, "Secret Hints for Men and Women." Send birthdate and 50 cents to Omarr Astrology Secrets, The Kingston Daily Freeman, Box 3240, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.)

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

LOTS OF GO: (Q.) I want to be a go-go girl. But I don't have the slightest idea where I could get a job like that. Do you?

I'm willing to work long and hard. I'm 15 and love to dance—A Dancer in Pennsylvania.

(A.) You are too young now to work as a go-go dancer. Wait a few more years. Your ambition may change. And if you are willing to work long and hard I'll bet that when the time comes you can find a lot better job than a go-go girl.

Have fun at dances and parties this summer and at school functions this fall.

SILENCES: (Q.) I met a girl at a big convention in a park. I spent most of the time with her. She is cute, intelligent, and I liked her.

She seemed to like me, too. We ate together and she went to a party with me. But we couldn't find much to talk about. Most of the time we just sat in silence.

She lives 60 miles away. Do you think she likes me? Please try to help me with my conversation.—Dave in California.

(A.) A boy and girl who live in the same neighborhood and go to the same school usually find talking to each other fairly easy. There is much of mutual interest for them to talk about.

And they get to know each other, or usually do, better than friends who live far apart. They see each other in all sorts of situations—not just dates or special occasions. Nearness can give a depth to their friendship that is more difficult for those who live in different cities or regions.

This distance and lack of mutual small talk may be one reason for your silence. But do not be discouraged. Occasional silence is fine if it is a silence of understanding and not one of disinterest or boredom.

If you and this girl truly like each other the silence won't hurt. As you get to know each other better your silent periods will grow shorter and you will find endless things to talk about.

Oswald: "In the early 19th century, British society used to relax at the town of Bath. One way to relax was by playing Whist and the play known as the Bath Coup was originated there. As such, it is probably the oldest advanced play in our modern repertoire."

Jim: "It was a far more successful play at Whist when no dummy was exposed and there weren't many conventions on discarding. Take today's hand."

West opens the king of hearts against South's three no-trump contract. South executes an automatic Bath Coup by letting the king hold. But if East has played his three of hearts, it is a cinch that West will abandon the suit and look for greener pastures.

Oswald: "A spade lead will give South three spade tricks instead of two. A diamond lead will cost the defense a trick in that suit, provided South reads the diamond situation correctly. West's best play is a low club and that's just what he did lead."

Jim: "South handled the club situation by playing dummy's jack, then cashing his ace and throwing West back in with the king. Once more, West was in trouble. He got out by leading his four of diamonds. East's king forced South's ace. South went over to dummy with the last club and took the diamond finesse. West made his jack and was back in trouble again."

Oswald: "The queen of spades lead might have fooled South but West led the five-spot. East's jack lost to South's ace and South was able to finesse against the queen of spades to wind up with three spades, one heart, two diamonds, three clubs, game and rubber."

Welk Explains His Success

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
Week Explains

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Lawrence Welk is a living anachronism in a day of acid rock, beards and super-amplified instruments, but he rolls along with unprecedented success on television and in personal appearances.

Welk, still beginning his music with "ah one, ah two, ah three," down-beat, starts his 15th year on television this fall. He plays to capacity houses on tour.

The 66-year-old band leader explains his unique success in the revolutionary world of music:

"I think the world is hungry for wholesome entertainment. I think it makes the public sick to see some of the things that are being done with music and on stage now.

Play With Good Taste
"We have gotten some good rhythm patterns from rock music. But we don't play it so loud people can't hear it. We play with moderation and good taste."

Dressed in a blue business suit, and with short sideburns, Welk continued in his inimitable accent to berate the decline of morality in this country as he sees it.

"Permissiveness and morality in the United States is very dangerous. You see it in the crime rate. We've got to get back to Christian principles and a decent moral standard. The trend must be reversed if we are going to save ourselves.

"It must start with the family," he said. "And show business should help by cleaning itself up."

A native of Strasburg, N.D., Welk is appalled by screen and stage nudity.

Not Old Fashioned
"Nudity doesn't belong in public," he said. "I don't think I'm old fashioned, but we are learning a bitter lesson from permissiveness, smut and nudity on stage. The lesson is that once you start, there is no stopping."

"Most decent people have the same feeling I do. It's common sense."

"Parents have failed their young by not giving them more discipline, love and guidelines. I've been criticized for being too much of a disciplinarian with my band, but I think it contributes to our success."

Welk says there is no generation gap in his family.

"You can understand that better if you read my book—it's now in paperback—"Guidelines to Successful Living." It is my philosophy of life and I live by it."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The stogie, a long thin cigar, derives its name from the famed Conestoga wagon. The World Almanac says. Originally the stogie was supposed to be up to a foot in length and was made by Conestoga wagon drivers for long trips across the Allegheny Mountains. The crudely rolled tobacco came to be known as conestogies and then just stogies.

Kissinger Confers With Lodge, Pompidou

Stalled Peace Talks Topics of Discussion

PARIS (UPI)—Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's top foreign policy adviser, was to brief French President Georges Pompidou and American delegates to the Vietnam talks today on Nixon's 12-day world tour.

Kissinger accompanied the President on the journey which included stops in eight countries. When Nixon flew home from England after airport talks with Prime Minister Harold Wilson, Kissinger flew to Paris.

He was greeted at Orly Airport Sunday night by U.S.

Ambassador Sargent Shriver and escorted to the ambassador's residence where he was Shriver's guest.

Kissinger was meeting early today with Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the American negotiating team at the Vietnam talks. Later in the day he was to see Pompidou, their first meeting since the French president took office in June.

There were unconfirmed reports Kissinger might be carrying some new instructions for Lodge on the U.S. position at the deadlocked talks. Kissinger accompanied Nixon on his unannounced visit to Saigon to meet with President Nguyen Van Thieu.

American delegation officials would say only that Lodge and Kissinger would discuss "international questions."

The talks, now in their 29th week, are stalled on the proposal by Thieu for participation by the Viet Cong in national elections under international supervision. The Communists have denounced the proposal and demanded withdrawal of all U.S. troops and overthrow of the Thieu regime.

Allied officials said they expect the deadlock to continue until Hanoi has time to study Nixon's Asian statements and review reactions to his tour. Le Duc Tho, senior adviser to the North Vietnamese delegation, is currently in Hanoi to assist in the review.

The next formal session of the talks is scheduled Thursday.

Meanwhile, in Vietnam American infantrymen with helicopter support attacked North Vietnamese troops near the Cambodian border in another operation designed to block any Communist buildup on the approach to Saigon, military spokesmen said today.

Troops of the 9th Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade attacked the Communist force Sunday as part of a sweep through flatlands near Duc Hoa 30 miles west of Saigon. They killed 39 North Vietnamese without any American fatalities.

Two Americans were wounded in the six-hour battle. It was one of a long series of offensive operations designed to clear the approaches to Saigon of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese lest they mass for an attack on the capital.

Viet Cong terrorists blew up a 210-foot bridge that serves as a principal supply route for the Australian military headquarters in South Vietnam.

U.S. Marines attacked a force of North Vietnamese operating near An Hoa, 24 miles south of the northern city of Da Nang. Five North Vietnamese were killed and two Marines killed and 14 wounded.

Vietnam fighting was generally light in a lull in its seventh week.

Communist gunners attacked six Allied points with rockets and mortars overnight but none was at U.S. installations.

Seven rockets struck Ba Ria City, a provincial capital 39 miles southeast of Saigon, killing two civilians.

The U.S. Command said today 150 troops of the 1st Logistical Army Command, 173rd Quartermaster Company, would be withdrawn from Vietnam Tuesday.

The 950th Adjutant General Postal Unit, part of the 1st Logistical Command also will leave. It will fly from Bien Hoa Air Base near Saigon to Standiford Airport in Louisville, Ky., for deactivation at Ft. Knox, Ky.

ROUNDOUT MUSIC FESTIVAL — Philip Timbrouck, chairman of People Unlimited; Eddie Parker, executive director of Ulster County Community Action Committee and the Rev. John H. Gilmore, director of the Kingston Human Relations Commission, watch youngsters participating in the Roundout Musical Festival. The event was held at Ann and East Union Streets Saturday from noon to 5 p. m. and featured four musical groups during the day. Another festival is being planned for late August. After Visit to Russia

HHH Statement: Security Big Concern of Soviets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — China, but once it is open they are very concerned about the border problems with China.

"And they are very concerned," he added, "lest we seem to be playing off China against the Soviet Union. They want to know where we stand."

Humphrey said the Soviets understand the United States has the economic power to surpass them when America puts a priority on a project such as getting a man on the moon. Because of that, he said, they realize they cannot win any arms race.

But an agreement on halting the arms buildup, he said, is being stalled because of the so-called MIRV—multiple independently targeted re-entry vehicle—or multiple warhead missile. The MIRV is intended to increase the firepower of existing missiles by putting more warheads on them and sending them after different targets when the missile re-enters the earth's atmosphere.

"It's my view that the Soviet Union has—and I've never said this to anyone before—that the information they have on our MIRV indicates to them that we're ahead in the multiple independently targeted nuclear warheads and that they're stalling for some testing of their own so that when they go to that bargaining table, they're in a position of equals."

"Now does this mean there will be no negotiations? The answer is no. I think that those negotiations will start very soon."

"... Soviet leaders I think now are more concerned about their relationship with the United States than ever before and I believe that this now is a fortuitous moment for us to proceed to discuss a number of items."

Can Start To Negotiate

"I think we're now at the stage where we can start to really negotiate more seriously than we have in the past with the Soviet Union on space technology and cooperation."

Humphrey added the Soviets seem to be more concerned about the MIRV than about the antiballistic missile system (ABM) which has taken up most of the public military debate in the United States recently.

Mansfield on Safeguard

No Intermittent Warfare

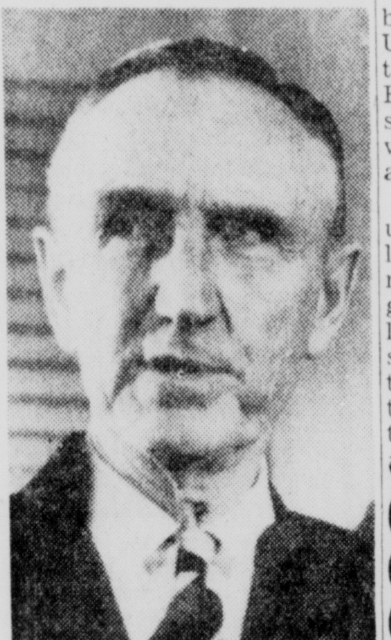

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he will not wage "intermittent warfare" against President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense program if it wins approval in its big test this week.

Although the issue of deploying the system will be decided Wednesday, the administration has more hurdles to face when Congress acts later in the year.

on appropriations to actually pay for the project.

Opponents, including Mansfield, have pointed out they could have a new avenue to block the project in the funding measure.

But Mansfield, in an interview, noted that the military

SENATOR MIKE MANSFIELD

Two senior senators apparently hold the key. Sens. John P. Williams, R-Del., and Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., remain uncommitted in a nearly deadlocked Senate. If both sides with President Nixon, and everyone else stands firm in previously indicated positions, a 50-50 tie vote is in prospect. That would defeat the amendment.

Other amendments will follow, but the first one is the crucial test.

Senate debate moved into its fifth week today.

When asked about a comeback in politics, perhaps via the U.S. Senate seat from Minnesota being vacated next year by Eugene J. McCarthy, the sparkle in Humphrey's eyes was more revealing than his answer:

"One never knows. This is an uncertain time in which we live. I really haven't made up my mind. I don't want to play games with a serious matter like the Senate. I am giving it serious consideration. ... I like the Senate ... but I need to take a big look at what I want to do with my life."

stay-smooth luxury

No-Iron percales

with permanent press that lasts

Stevens finely woven No-Iron sheets and pillow cases of 50% combed cotton and 50% polyester percale with durable press satin smooth finish that defies wrinkling and mussing. Machine wash, tumble dry and put them right back to bed without a rumple or pucker to spoil their freshness! Fitted sheets have stretch corners for easy bed making.

Beauty Rose

Eyelet lace accented rose border hem and charming rose sprays on the top sheet turnback and pillow cases. Bottom fitted sheets in all-over tiny rosebud print. Pink, blue or yellow on white.

Executive stripe

High fashion tailored look—white pin stripes on navy, oxford and azalea. Dramatize your bed with combinations of the stripes, or with the coordinated solids.
